THE STATE'S FINAL WORD

Sausage-Maker Luetgert's Fate Is Now in the Hands of the Jury.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—The famous Luetgert trial opened this morning with the greatest crush yet seen. Thousands of persons formed in line before the criminal court building as early as 7 o'clock in the morning.

It was a wild mob and there were numerous unpleasant collisions between the bailiffs and the turbulent people.

Luetgert came into court smiling and shook hands with a number of his friends.

State's Attorney Deneen promptly began his closing argument. He opened with a defense of several of the leading witnesses for the prosecution.

"After four or five days of oratory on the part of Judge Vincent and Attorney Phalen, what have we to answer?" asked State's Attorney Deneen in emphatic style. "Simply ridicule. I shall not waste time answering the assertions of orators who assail the reputations of men of learning who are recognized authorities upon the subjects upon which they were called to discuss. Prof. Dorsey, who has charge of a department of the Field Columbian Museum, is referred to contemptously as a bird stuffer. And that is all they say in reply to the evidence of one of the most expert osteologists in the country. Prof. Bailey, a graduate of Cambridge and a man of brilliant attainments, is dubbed a mechanic. Mrs. Christine Feld, who told how Luetgert had borrowed money from her and who identified the rings, is designated as the woman with the alabaster neck. Prof. Howse is sneeringly referred to as a janitor.

"This is the mode of argument adopted by the defense. Ridicule is usually the weapon of those who have not fact to support their contention. Professor Dorsey did not come into this case voluntarily. He was summoned by the people of the State of Illinois. This mode of attack upon the witnesses for the prosecution partook of Billingsgate in which I shall not indulge."

The State's Attorney then proceeded with his argument, promising that it should be brief. He said:

"There are three matters of vital importance which are deserving of discussion in this great trial—first, the theory of soap; second, the evidence of the Schnapike sisters; and third, the mysterious woman at Kenosha.

"I will take these points as my text and may also discuss some collateral matters. The theory that Luetgert desired to scrub his factory in order to sell it to a syndicate has been exploded. It has been shown that the sausage factory had not been in operation for several months. Luetgert was not busy during the day time. Why should he make soap at night? It was shown that the midle vat in the basement was scrubbed the day before—"

"Hold on, Mr. Deneen, that statement is incorrect," interrupted ex-Judge Vincent. "The scrubbing did not occur the day before Mrs. Luetgert disappeared, but several days before."

"Well, we will not discuss that point farther; there are other things to consider of more importance. But I want to say a word right here in reference to the police. The defense heaped abuse upon Inspector Schaack and the policemen who have for months been connected with this case. They have been called perjurers. Gentlemen, there are 6000 cases and more tried in this court each year, and the police are the prosecuting witnesses in all of them. Are they perjurers all the time? Ridiculous. Diedrich Bicknez has also been abused. He is the original man in this prosecution. It was his sister who was killed. Filial duty inspired him to avenge her death. He has rested neither day nor night to bring the slayer of his sister to justice. He is deserving of praise, and not of cruel and dishonest criticism."

State's Attorney Deneen next devoted his attention to the bones found in the vat. "Professor Dorsey, Professor Howse, Professor Delafontaine identified some of these bones as human metacarpals, human femurs, human phalanges, human temporals," he shouted. "What has the defense done with these bones? Dr. Allport, the chief osteologist for the defense, said he could not tell. His mind was a mental equilibrium. Dr. Merillat said nothing, Dr. Hughes said nothing, Dr. Reese said nothing. In fact, the identification of the experts of the prosecution was not disputed, except by the unsupported ridicule of counsel for the defense. I think ex-Judge Vincent when he heaped abuse upon Professor Dorsey, stooped below his dignity. The latter has been sent to South America and Alaska to procure the bones of extinct races for the Field Columbian Museum. He was selected because he knew bones, their nature, and to what family they belonged."

"But I do not care to discuss the experts further," said State's Attorney Deneen. "I am through with them, also the bones—but that barrel of bones will not get out of this case. I mean the one the defense brought here. William Charles, Luetgert's partner, perjured himself to get that barrel in. Now we will keep it in. Charles ought to be indicted for trying to cover up crime with crime. Gentlemen, there is absolutely no doubt in this case. Luetgert killed his wife. All this talk that the woman left her home while suffering an attack of insanity is the veriest bosh, cunningly devised and supported by perjured testimony."

State's Attorney Deneen criticised Mary Siemmering in cutting tones. He paid a glowing tribute to the memory of Mrs. Luetgert, whose last days on earth, he said, were fraught with sorrow and anguish. Luetgert moved about in his chair and tremor shook his frame. He paid the closest attention to the speech of the young State's Attorney and the crowd in the vast court room listened with breathless attention.

State's Attorney Deneen suddenly turned to Judge Tuthill and said that his throat was sore and that he also felt ill and dizzy.

"I would like to stop here temporarily," said he.

"Very well, court will stand adjourned for an hour and a half," said Judge Tuthill.

Deneen said he would close in a brief speech, after which the judge will read his instructions.

The case will go to the jury about 4 o'clock. The court had not adjourned fifteen minutes before a few of the favored spectators returned and secured front seats. The seating capacity of the room was packed and a dozen or more people who had fought their way through the boisterous crowds in front of the building were admitted to the standing room along the walls. Judge Tuthill was accompanied by half a dozen lady friends when he re-entered.

The three raps of the bailiff announcing that court was in session had hardly died away before the prisoner, his face wreathed in smiles, entered and took his accustomed seat. Considerable disturbance was caused by the constant arrival of spectators in the already overcrowded room, and it was nearly five minutes, during which time about thirty people were ordered out of the room before the State's Attorney, apparently refreshed by his rest, resumed his remarks to the jury.

After an impromptu recess of nearly ten minutes, during which time the court arranged his notes and the spectators crowded forward for a look at Luetgert, Judge Tuthill began reading his charge to the jury.

Judge Tuthill instructed the jury as follows:

"Before a conviction can be had in this case, the State must prove beyond reasonable doubt and to a moral certainty, first, that Louisa Luetgert is dead; second, that she came to her death on the first of May, 1897, in the county of Cook, State of Illinois; third, that Adolph L. Luetgert, the defendant, wilfully, maliciously, feloniously and of malice aforethought, killed and murdered the said Louisa Luetgert by some of the various means charged in the indictment or by means unknown. The burden of proof rests upon the prosecution to make out and prove to the satisfaction of the jury, beyond all reasonable doubt every material allegation in the indictment, and unless that has been done the jury should find the defendant not guilty. It is not incumbent upon the defendant to prove that Louisa Luetgert is alive, or her whereabouts or what became of her. If it is possible for you to reconcile the facts in this case upon any reasonable theory consistent with the innocence of the defendant, it is your duty to do so, and find him not guilty.

"You are instructed as a matter of law that if you believe from the evidence beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant assaulted and killed Louisa Luetgert, as charged under circumstances showing no considerable provocation, but showing an abandoned and malignant part on the part of the defendant and a total disregard of human life, then the law pronounces such killing to be murder and a jury so finds. It matters not that such evidence is circumstantial or made up from facts and circumstances, provided the jury believe that such facts and circumstances, pointing to the defendant as guilty, have been proved, so that from a consideration of all the evidence in the case there is no reasonable doubt in the minds of the jury as to the guilt of the defendant. Direct and positive testimony is not necessary to prove the intent. It may be inferred from facts and circumstances shown by the evidence.

"No man may be convicted of a crime until what is known as the corpus delicti has been established by the prosecution.

"And unless you are convinced by the evidence in this case, beyond a reasonable doubt that Louisa Luetgert died at the time charged in the indictment, and also that she came to her death in manner and form as charged in the indictment, in such circumstances it is your duty to acquit the defendant. To prove the corpus delicti the State is required to produce only such legal evidence as establishes in the mind of the jury, beyond a reasonable doubt, a conviction that the murder charged in the indictment has been in fact committed in manner and form as charged, and that the defendant is guilty of its commission; and it matters not what the proof of such corpus delicti consists, in whole or in part, of circumstantial evidence, provided it is sufficient to satisfy the minds of the jurors, beyond a reasonable doubt, of the commission of the offense charged.

"While the statute of the State provides that a person charged with crime may testify in his own behalf, he is not under any obligations to do so, and the statute expressly declares that his neglect to satisfy shall not create any presumption against him."

Judge Tuthill was in fine voice and talked rapidly, every word of his charge to the jury being heard in all parts of the court room. He finished at 4:45 and a moment later, the jury in charge of Bailiff Connors, retired.

Judge Tuthill has adjourned court until 8 P. M.

Luetgert has finally decided, if he is acquitted to purchase an interest in a down town saloon or open one himself a prominent location can be secured, and the vat, the steam pipe and the great Dane dogs will be exhibited as a sort of side show while Luetgert passes out beer over the bar. While getting ready to open a saloon, Luetgert will exhibit himself in some local museum if he can find a manager willing to pay his price.

A BANK WRECKER SENT TO PRISON.

Issued Bogus Paper and Robbed Many Poor but Confiding People.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 18.—Cashier George A. Taylor of the Argentine Bank, which failed last year owing thousands of dollars to depositors, was convicted in the Criminal Court in Argentine, Kansas, at noon today of wrecking the concern.

The trial has been proceeding for a week. Taylor held considerable paper of friends, who at the critical moment were unable to come to his rescue. Considerable excitement and strong talk followed the closing of the bank, whose depositors were mostly poor men and women, and Taylor disappeared.

A reward for his arrest was offered, but he finally surrendered voluntarily. Sentence has not yet been passed.

The liabilities of the bank when it failed were found to be $198,000, and the assets about $10,000 less. It was shown that false statements of the bank's condition were sworn to by Taylor and that his bank held $80,000 worth of worthless paper.

BAD MONEY MADE IN STATE'S PRISON.

Remarkable Ingenuity of the Convicts With Crude Material.

Warden Wright Says There Has Been a Plot on the Outside.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 18.—Warden E. S. Wright of the Riverside penitentiary has discovered that convicts have been manufacturing counterfeit 50-cent pieces. He has unearthed the metal from which the "queer" money was made, and the moulds in which it was cast.

The counterfeits are magnificent specimens of the coiner's art. The die from which they were made is almost perfect, and the milling of the coins, which is the government's chief protection of metal money from those who would imitate it, is as near perfect as it is possible for human ingenuity to make it.

That such coins could be made within the walls of the Riverside penitentiary with the crude implements to be obtained by the prisoners is startling.

The counterfeiters had already secured a connection with outside parties and some of the bad money is now in circulation. Warden Wright has a list of nearly a score of convicts and persons supposed to be connected with the counterfeiting, and when the full story of the crime comes out it is said there will be some sensational developments.

KILLED BY A KICK FROM HIS HORSE.

ohn Olive of the Fish Ranch Passed Away This Morning.

Crossed the Plains in 1854 With Captain Young's Party.

WALNUT CREEK, Cal., Oct. 18.—John Olive, proprietor of the Fish Ranch and one of the best known men in Alameda and Contra Costa counties, who was kicked by a horse on Saturday, last died this morning as the result of the injuries he received.

John Olive was born at Long Point, Canada, West, seventy-five miles south of London, September 7, 1825. At the age of 18 he removed to London and engaged in the stage business until July, 1850, when he emigrated to Galena, Ill., and entered the employ of Fink & Walker on their stage line from Dubuque to Iowa City, thence to Muscatine, on the Mississippi. July 12, 1857, he embarked for St. Louis, Missouri He joined Howe & Nealy's circus and traveled with it until July 4th of the same year, and later joined Howe & Lent's circus.

He severed his connection with this company in New York, October 19, 1851. Mr. Olive then found employment in the Bowery Theater, and was one of the party that brought General Kossuth, the Hungarian patriot, from his ship at Staten Island, at the time he made his first speech in the United States.

He revisited London in December, and re-entered the staging business, remaining until June, 1852, when he went to Michigan and followed the like occupation. On March 4, 1854, Mr. Olive joined Captain Young's party bound for California. After many hardships and dangers they finally reached Sacramento, August 11, 1854. In March, 1856, Mr. Olive went to Stockton, and in 1879 removed to Contra Costa county, settling on the Fish ranch.

The Island's Commercial Men as Anxious for Peace and Protection.

IMPORTANT SECRET MEETING.

Are Not Enough Autonomists to Quell the Lawless Elements.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

MATANZAS, Cuba, via Key West, Fla., Oct. 18.—The business element here, in Havana and elsewhere, seems to have arrived at the conclusion that the Madrid government cannot end the war on the basis of autonomy for Cuba, and there are not enough loyalists among the autonomists to hold public office. At least that is the claim the conservative Spaniards make. In addition, the latter express the belief that the autonomists, even if they were placed in power, would not be able to preserve peace and protect life and property from the lawless elements.

In view of this condition of affairs, a number of important merchants and sugar planters of Spanish origin, in conjunction with several Cubans of prominence, have been holding secret meetings and corresponding with people in various parts of the island with the object of ascertaining the views of the commercial and planting community in Pinar del Rio, Havana, Matanzas and Santa Clara provinces, as to the future of Cuba, most likely to further their interests and those of the island in general.

It is expected that the majority of the replies were favorable to annexation of Cuba to the United States as the Washington government alone, apparently, is able to guarantee peace in Cuba and the protection of life and property.

As soon as it is ascertained that the sentiment of the persons appealed to is in favor of annexation, a committee will be sent to the United States with instructions to lay the case of Cuba clearly before the business men of prominence in the United States and ask the latter to unite with the business men of Cuba in a petition to the Washington government asking the United States in view of the failure of the conservatives to suppress the insurrection by force of arms and pointing out the impossibility of the liberals ending the war by establishing an autonomous form of government, to bring about the annexation of Cuba to the United States.

The plan of Senor Sagasta, the new Spanish Premier, to give autonomy to Cuba, far from giving satisfaction here, has greatly increased the feeling of discontent. The autonomist party, it is pointed out, exists only in name, the actual majority of the autonomists being in the insurgent ranks, and with the exception possibly of Senor Montero and a few other prominent autonomists the masses of that party are in sympathy with the insurgents. Consequently it will be seen the Spanish government is finding great difficulty in obtaining even the suggestion of names of autonomists to fill the offices, under an autonomist form of government. It would be imprudent, it is added, to give such offices to the party known as the reformists, as the more influential Spaniards hate them and the adoption of such a policy would possibly mean rioting and even worse. Besides, the masses of the resident Spaniards are strongly anti-autonomists, and there is little or no prospect of making them change their minds. Recognizing the difficulty of the task before Senor Sagasta, it is not astonishing that the business community in Cuba is exchanging views on the subject of annexation to the United States. Possibly as a general uprising of the Spanish element is feared if the Spanish government persists in pushing its autonomist policy, business men believing that autonomy is only the first step towards independence in Cuba and the feeling of the commercial classes being that annexation to the United States, with the consequent safeguards to life and property, is far preferable to the establishment of a new republic in Cuba.

The city of Bayamo, one of the most important in the province of Santiago de Cuba, has been quietly abandoned recently, its inhabitants moving as a rule to Veguitas, fearing a repetition at Bayamo of the insurgent raid upon Victoria de Las Tunas. It is said that a number of messages were exchanged between General Weyler and members of the Sagasta cabinet during the latter's first day in office. The recent release of a large number of political prisoners from the different Spanish settlements was due to the disgust in certain Spanish circles here at the extreme severity exercised towards them, but it is not believed that the Spanish government intends to grant general amnesty.

A MOVE OF MARKED INTEREST.

Seventy Thousand Children Are in New York's Parochial Schools.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—It is reported in high official circles that a plan is to be inaugurated by the city of New York and Archbishop Corrigan for the management of the parochial schools.

According to this report the Archbishop has been negotiating with Superintendent Jasper of the public schools for the affiliation of the parochial and public schools. He has offered, it is alleged, to turn the Catholic schools, with their 70,000 children, over to the municipal school authorities, provided he is permitted to give an hour's instruction each day to the Catholic children of the public schools. This is the stipulation; he makes no other as regards text-books or teachers.

It is said that many other metropolitans are anxious to adopt a similar policy if it meets with the approval of the apostolic delegate.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Archbishop Corrigan refused to be seen with reference to the statement that all the parochial schools would be turned over to the Board of Education, provided that one hour be devoted to the teaching of the tenets of the faith to Roman Catholic children. From another source it was learned that the Archbishop had denied the story absolutely.

A LAND DECISION IS REVERSED.

The Supreme Court Settles a Case Which Has Long Been in Dispute.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The Supreme Court to-day reversed the decision of the court of private land claims in the case of the United States vs. Verge et al., appellants, deciding that there was no evidence to support the claim of the appellants to the title of the land claimed. The appellants claimed title to eleven square leagues of territory in New Mexico, alleged to have been granted to one Bartolome Joca by the acting Governor in 1819. She claimed to be one of the legal heirs of Joca. The court decided from the facts presented to it that there was no evidence of title to any portion of the lands.

TAMPERED WITH THE CHARTER.

A Change in the Document Which Affects the Meaning.

The Effect of the Substitution of "First" for the Word "Last."

After many attempts to reach a settlement, the case of the City of Oakland vs. the Southern Pacific Company was taken under advisement this morning by Judge Ellsworth.

The action is based on the move of the city to make the railroad company pay taxes on the Seventh street line and other property, which the company holds ought to be assessed only by the State Board of Equalization.

The argument today was on the demurrer to the complaint, A. A. Moore appearing for the defendant. He questioned the correctness of the assessment by the city on the ground that the work was not done until the middle of the month of July whereas the law declares, he said, that the rolls shall be turned over on the first Monday of that month.

This point was controverted by City Attorney Dow who held that the rolls are not required to be turned over before the last Monday of July.

Mr. Moore showed that in the Senate roll, the reading of Section 138 required that the rolls should be turned over on the first Monday of July.

Mr. Dow said that in the roll in question, somebody had deliberately erased the word "last" and had inserted instead the word "first," which made the ate itself inconsistent, because, under the substitution, the rolls were to be handled before they were required to be turned over by the County Assessor.

Judge Ellsworth expressed a wish to see a copy of the charter which was filed in the Recorder's office. The document was procured by Mr. Dow and showed that the word "last" was the one which was used with respect to time in July that the rolls are to be turned over.

The court will hand down a decision in a couple of weeks.

WISHES TO RECOVER A THOUSAND DOLLARS.

A Claim Presented to the Council on Behalf of Owen Rooney.

Judge Emil Nusbaumer this afternoon filed with the City Clerk a claim for $1,000 back licenses, which he desires the Council to pay to avoid the necessity of going to law.

The licenses were paid by Owen F. Rooney, who runs a saloon at the Oakland mole. He commenced paying the license to the city in May, 1895, when he was convicted in the Police Court of selling liquor within the city limits without a license. The license was paid up to September 23d of this year.

Judge Nusbaumer claims that the recent water front decision of the Supreme Court shows that Rooney's place is outside the city limits.

After stating the amounts paid into the City Treasury by Rooney the claim goes on to state:

"The claimant was coerced to pay the said license, and only paid the same against his will and consent, and was compelled to pay the same to avoid arrest, and paid the same each time only under protest, he constantly being advised by his attorneys, Reed & Nusbaumer, and verily believing that said place was outside the limits of said city."

District Attorney Snook recently advised County License Collector Barnett to collect county licenses from the saloon in question, and City Attorney Dow concurred in the District Attorney's opinion.

SAN JOSE'S MURDER TRIAL CONTINUES.

NOT COQUETTING WITH AMERICANS.

The Bank of England Makes a Statement Through Its Governor.

Congratulations in Order Since the Disposition of Bimetallic Scares.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—The afternoon papers today echo the opinions of the morning newspapers in congratulating the government upon finally dispelling of the bimetallic scare, and expressing regret that it should "ever have seemed to receive support in high quarters."

Hugh C. Smith, Governor of the Bank of England, said today to a representative of the Associated Press: "The bank is a private company without any governmental control and is not responsible to the government, except in the terms of the charter. The government cannot issue any order relative to the bank's reserve. At the same time the government is the bank's best customer, and the court of governors being composed of law abiding citizens, whenever the government makes a request we do our best to comply. The government must be presumed to know what is best for the country.

"The press has been filled with misstatements. The government was asking if the bank was willing to renew its offer made at the Paris monetary conference, in 1881, regarding its reserve. I replied in the same tenor as the memorandum which the banks told the conference, though more gradually. That is all that happened. The statement that the bank has been coquetting with the American commissioners is pure rubbish. Excepting what I have read in the papers, I have never heard of these gentlemen."

The United States Monetary Commissioners have reached no official information regarding the action taken by the British Cabinet on Saturday last. Private advices, however, convince them that the Cabinet has dealt the death blow to their mission. It is expected the commissioners will shortly be informed that Her Majesty's government regrets being unable to accede to their proposals, but is willing to listen to any other plan they may suggest. Both parties to the conference know that no practical scheme can be advanced.

In the event of the expected reply being received, the United States commissioners will return to the United States.

It is learned the only thing the Cabinet officially discussed in connection with the currency question on Saturday was Sir James Westland's reports. Sir James is head of the financial department of India and his voluminous report took the strongest grounds against reopening the mints.

The commissioners believe their failure means that no further effort in behalf of dimetallism will be made for many years to come. They attribute their failure to the opposition of the bankers and of the London Times. Until these forces were aroused all signs pointed to the co-operation of the British government.

INVITED THE TRAIN TO RUN HIM DOWN.

Strange Death of a Tramp Who Had Deserted His Wife

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

STOCKTON, Cal., Oct. 18.—A tramp believed to be J. Heffernan, formerly of this city, was struck and ground to pieces by a Southern Pacific train last night at Castle Switch, near here.

From the fact that when the engineer blew his whistle the man looked back and continued to walk along the track, it is supposed that he deliberately committed suicide. Papers found on his person indicate that he deserted his wife here about four years ago.

MARKET STREET BLOCK.

The Market Street Block, at the junction of Seventh and Market streets, has recently been thoroughly renovated, and is now in first class condition. It is conducted by Mrs. Mendenhall, which is a guarantee that it has no superior in the city. It is passed by all local trains, as well as the Eighth street electric road. Business men who want nicely furnished rooms and a first class table, can find no more desirable home.

Francis Hall Explains.

Francis Hall, the colored lad who was brought into prominence by Rev. Marshal Law, editor of Choir and Nave, says the reverend gentleman has not given him a square deal. "It is true I borrowed a few dollars while Mr. Law was away," says Hall, "but I did so in my own name. I only got $5 in all, fully intending to pay it back, and if I had not decided to quit the minister's service nothing would have been said. It is no business of his what I borrow anyhow."

Police Court Notes.

The second preliminary hearing of J. J. Legault was begun in the Police Court this afternoon.

An agreement was reached today between George E. De Golia, attorney for the plaintiff, and City Attorney Dow, in the mysterious case of Flannigan against the city of Oakland, whereby the case was quietly dropped. The case was brought to declare the water rates of the city illegal.

Will Be Tried Anyway.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—Secretary Alger has directed General Brooke that court martial be organized for trial of Captain Lovering in case the captain does not ask for a court of inquiry. Captain Lovering, it is alleged, brutally maltreated a private named Hammond at Fort Sheridan recently.

Settled the Strike.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

POMEROY, Ohio, Oct. 18.—The coal miners' strike in the Pomeroy Bend has been settled at $2.12 per hundred bushels, which is highly satisfactory to the miners. All the mines and salt works will resume operations at once.

FOUND NOT GOLD BUT EARLY DEATH.

Henry Tucker Who Died in the Clondyke Was a Journalist.

Was Advised to Stay Home but Refused to Listen to Advice.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Henry Tucker of Troy, N. Y., whose death is reported in Associated Press dispatches from the Clondyke, was a son of Henry O'Reilly Tucker, proprietor and editor of the Troy Press, and the circumstances connected with his venturing to the gold regions complete with his death a pathetic story.

He was a young man of frail constitution, but indomitable purpose, and started for the gold fields upon two days' notice to his parents. He had been doing editorial work at Troy and political work in the Legislature here. With the money he saved he had intended to go to Europe or elsewhere, or a month's vacation in Maine. He suddenly decided to go to the gold fields, and his father could not hinder him in his purpose.

DEAD IN THE RUINS.

Remains of an Aged Couple Found After Windsor's Fire.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

WINDSOR, N. S., Oct. 18.—The bodies of Patrick Kelley and his wife, an aged couple, have been found in the ruins of their house, which was destroyed in yesterday's fire. The destruction in the entire fire-swept district is complete, only the court house, customs house and Mounees' Hotel standing intact.

No estimate of the loss can be given, but it is said the insurance is only about thirty per cent. There will be much suffering from cold unless sufficient clothing is speedily brought here.

THE RAILROAD WILL BE SOLD IN NOVEMBER.

However, a Temporary Delay May Be Taken for Bidders to Raise Money.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Attorney-General McKenna when questioned today, declined to state whether or not there was any prospect of a postponement of the Union Pacific Railway sale at the United States Circuit, at Omaha, set for November 1st. From other perfectly trustworthy sources, however, it is learned that there is no present intention on the part of the government to interfere with the order of the court in the matter of the sale. If it should come to the knowledge of the government that the parties other than the reorganization committee were anxious of making a bona fide bid, but required additional time in which to perfect the arrangements to make the required deposit, it is quite certain that the Government as a creditor would promptly ask the court for a temporary postponement of the sale. But as far as is known this contingency has not arisen and unless something unforeseen takes place, the sale will take place on November 1st, the date originally fixed upon by the court.

She Was Educated in Europe and Now Is a Lady.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—The particulars obtainable concerning the marriage Saturday of Sir Edwin Arnold, the poet and editor, to a Japnese lady, show that the ceremony took place at St. Mathias Church, Earls Court, this city in the presence of Sir Edwin's brother, Sir Arthur Arnold, chairman of the London County Council, the Japanese Minister and their wives.

Sir Edwin and Lady Arnold will reside on Boldergarden street, this city. The bride was brought from Japan, and was educated in England. Her name is not mentioned.

STUCK A KNIFE INTO HIS THROAT.

Violent Effort of a Man to Commit Suicide on a Train.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 18.—A man giving the name of Simon A. Louchtot, en route from some Eastern city to San Francisco, attempted suicide on a passenger train at Truckee last night by plunging a knife into his throat. The knife blade made a wound three inches in length. It is not thought it will prove fatal. Louchtot was left at Truckee for medical treatment.

Mrs. Sophie Ball Believed in the Doctrine of Christian Science.

An Inquest Showed That Death Was Caused by Consumption.

The reason for the inquest was that Mrs. Ball died unattended by a physician. She has been ill for a number of years, but for the last two months, according to her husband, a local trainman, she has been treated by a Christian Scientist named Mrs. Kimball.

AMERICANS IN DANGER.

A Gunboat Sent to Guatemala to Protect Their Interests.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The State Department has received a cablegram from the United States Charge d'Affaires at Guatemala City, stating that owing to the extension of the present revolutionary movement to the eastern portion to Guatemala, American interests in that section and American citizens are endangered and the presence of a warship is desirable.

Accordingly the Secretary of the Navy has sent orders to the U. S. S. Detroit, now in Florida, to proceed at once to Livingston, on the Gulf coast of Guatemala to protect American interests.

The Montgomery now at Staten Island, has been ordered to relieve the Detroit of the work of looking after filibusterers in which she has been engaged.

DEATH OF SURGEON-GENERAL N. L. BATES.

Took the Oath of Office in Bed and Died in Two Weeks.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Surgeon-General Newton L. Bates of the Navy Department, the President's physician, died at the Shoreham Hotel at half-past nine this morning of a renal trouble. He was appointed Surgeon-General about two weeks ago to succeed Surgeon-General Tryon and was obliged on account of the illness which finally resulted in his death, to take the oath of office in bed.

His illness at this time was not regarded as serious but developed alarming symptoms within the last day or two and then grew steadily worse.

He entered the navy from New York State in June, 1861, and prior to his appointment as Surgeon-General was a medical director with the relative rank of captain, and was on duty at the Naval Museum of Hygiene in this city.

BIG SHIPS FROM MANY PLACES.

Unusual Activity Noticed at the Well-Built Adams Wharf.

Tons of Coal and Mountains of Lumber for Home Consumption.

The citizen of Oakland who has not visited the water front east of Harrison street in the past few months, will be surprised at the rapid strides which that section is making toward metropolitan importance. There is now, really as much business transacted there as there is at the city wharf, and, as a consequence, notwithstanding that the most modern appliances are utilized in the discharging of cargos, there are always boats there awaiting their turn to dock.

The front there is what is known as the Adams wharf, and has become popular, not only with those in heavy business, but also with those engaged in the carrying trade.

Today the place was fairly alive with the hum of trade and the noise of progress, showing that it is excellently realizing the object of its projectors.

When a Tribune reporter visited the scene the wharf for half a mile was lined with sailing vessels nearly all of which were of the staunchest kind. The first of these was the fine bark Columa of Portland, Captain Noyes. This boat has a register of 840 tons, and was discharging a lumber cargo of 650,000 feet which she had brought from Portland. Beside her was the little coaster schooner Pike County of San Francisco, which was taking a load of lumber to be delivered in San Francisco. The Pike County was originally built for the purpose of running between San Francisco and San Quentin and, in her day, delivered many a criminal at the prison.

Adjoining her was the jaunty steamer Alliance, which is the property of Supervisor Mitchell, and had its motive power supplied by a factory in this city. She had come from Portland with 400,000 feet of lumber of which amount 200,000 are being discharged here. The rest will go to San Francisco. The Alliance has been actively engaged in lucrative business since she was fitted here about a year ago.

The next vessel moored is the fine iron bark Inchcape Rock of Glasgow with a register of 900 tons. She has just finished discharging a cargo of coal.

An almost companion boat is the Morven of Greenock, which, like the other, has just gotten rid of an immense cargo of coal.

At the dock of the Oregon Improvement Company the staunch clipper ship Montgomeryshire of Swansea is unloading coal, of which she had 2,600 tons aboard. The Montgomeryshire hails from Liverpool, and is under the command of Captain Edwards.

Lying outside her is the German bark Melpomene, which is also loaded with coal and which is awaiting its turn to dock. She hails from Hamburg, but in this instance has come from Newcastle, having made a very rapid run.

There is also activity of another line, and that is noticed in the erection of a fine metallic warehouse, which is the property of the California Development Company. This is 110x60 feet, and will be fireproof.

There is soon to be erected on Adams' wharf a structure which will be the largest of the kind in this State. It is intended for the cleaning and grading of beans, and will be a welcome adjunct to the varied industries at Adams' wharf.

The warehouse of Hunt, Hatch & Co. is thronged with customers at all hours of the day, showing that in building it Mr. Adams knew what were the needs of the people.

MINERS ARE NOW IN CONVENTION.

The Annual Session Opened This Morning in San Francisco.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—The annual convention of the California Miners' Association was called to order by President Jacob Neff today at 10 o'clock. All the mining counties in the State were represented. After the appointment of a committee on credentials, consisting of one delegate from each county, the convention adjourned to 1:30 P. M.

NIEMAN THOUGHT TO BE INSANE.

Will Be Examined as Soon as He Is Released From Prison.

Is Afraid That Captain Wilson Will Try to Murder Him.

When the six months' sentence of William C. Nieman expires next Friday, the young man may not be given his liberty. He will be taken to the Receiving Hospital to be examined as to his sanity.

Nieman is an ex-deputy constable. He has seen considerable trouble since he was discharged from his deputyship, and left that office under a cloud. He had some trouble over money, which it is alleged passed through his hands and did not reach its owner. He was not prosecuted, however.

About six months ago Nieman was arrested by Deputy Constable Robinson, on a charge of stealing a bicycle. He was sentenced to serve six months in the City Prison.

Since his incarceration Nieman has acted queerly on several occasions. He was allowed to assist janitor John Wild of the City Hall for a time, but his queer actions caused the jailers to discontinue these liberties.

Of late the man's actions have been such that the police authorities have decided that Nieman must be insane. This morning he was found moaning and crying by Jailer Charles Hamerton, who took Health Officer Dunn in to see the man. At first he refused to answer any of Dr. Dunn's questions, but finally said that he was afraid Police Captain Wilson would kill him. When asked what reason he had for so believing, Nieman answered with groans.

Dr. Dunn gave the man a quieting potion, which he took only after repeated persuasions. An hour later Nieman was perfectly rational and did not remember his fears. Jailer Hamerton says that the man suffers with occasional spells, and it is deemed advisable to have him examined by the Sanity Commission.

MANY NEED ASSISTANCE

Calvin B. McDonald, the Veteran Journalist Asks for Aid.

DESTITUTE AND IN SORE WANT

A Young Woman Deserted by Her Husband Makes an Appeal.

THREE CHILDREN TO SUPPORT.

A Number of Other Matters Considered by the Supervisors.

The Board of Supervisors held its regular meeting this morning and transacted considerable routine work.

Calvin B. McDonald, the veteran journalist, is now an object of charity. An appeal was made in his behalf this morning by O. E. Periquoit. The old man did not want to go to the County Infirmary, but asked that the Board give him some aid. Supervisor Church had assisted him for some time by giving him $8 a month for his board at a restaurant. McDonald was able to pay his own rent. Finally, the restaurant failed, and the old man, already in arrears for his room rent, was turned out. Periquoit took him home and Church promised to pay one month's rent.

Supervisor Church said that as McDonald was still able to do occasional newspaper work, and had been on the relief list before the resolution was adopted sending all solitary indigents to the County Infirmary, he believed an exception should be made in his case and his allowance continued.

McDonald had removed from Supervisor Church's district. As a majority of the Supervisors concurred in this view, McDonald will still be allowed $8 a month assistance.

A pitiful case of desertion and destitution came to the notice of the Board. Mrs. Wallace, a young woman residing at 113 Todd street, asked for relief. She has been deserted by her husband and left with the three children, 6, 5, and 3 years of age respectively, to take care of. The case was referred to Supervisor Mitchell.

GOLDEN GATE AFFAIRS.

In answer to the communication from the Golden Gate Sanitary Board, regarding who possessed the authority to refuse or grant permission to lay sewers in the district, District Attorney Snook replied that the Board had no jurisdiction in the matter. The district in question belongs to the newly-annexed territory. The District Attorney quoted the act which leaves the authority in such matters to the sanitary board, save in incorporated cities. He added: "I find nothing in the act which requires permission to be obtained by such sanitary district from the Board of Supervisors, and advise you that it would be improper, because unnecessary, for your honorable body to grant permission for a sanitary district such as is requested in the communication referred to me."

County Superintendent of Schools J. P. Garlick reported the suspension of the Vesta School District, and asked what should be done with the school supplies. His communication was referred to the District Attorney.

Health Officer J. P. Young of Washington Township filed a report showing five deaths during September.

County Surveyor Nusbaumer recommended the acceptance of the laying of a pipe by contractor Stone on the Haywards road. He also recommended the acceptance of the construction of the concrete culvert in Leona creek by E. B. Stone.

K. G. Easton's construction of the concrete culvert at the San Leandro creek was also recommended to be accepted by the County Surveyor. The Board will visit the location before accepting the work.

B. Knott and G. J. Hopp, contractors for the construction of the Receiving Hospital Annex, filed notice that they transferred $300 of the money due them to E. R. Tutt as payment for material furnished.

LIQUOR LICENSES.

Applications for liquor licenses were received from Chris Christensen, Irvington; John Harren, Altamont; Julius Wildermuth, Newark.

Liquor licenses were granted to Simon Costa, Mission San Jose; Owen Rooney, Long Wharf; Joseph Solon, Mission San Jose; Fiege & Hennings, Long Wharf; Charles Steyer, San Leandro.

The matter of hearing the protest against granting a license to O. O. Fox of Elmhurst went over for one week by consent of all parties.

Supervisor Talcott reported that there was a triangular piece of land at the end of the San Leandro bridge, which the owner desired to sell to the county for $75, the money to be paid out of the Brooklyn road district fund. Mr. Roeth said that he could not see how the addition to the approach would be necessary. Daniel McCarthy of San Leandro spoke in behalf of the purchase of the land. On Mr. Talcott's suggestion, being put to the motion, it was carried, only Supervisor Roeth voting no.

Bids for the improving and grading of the Pleasanton county road were received from the following: E. B. Stone, $584; John Beck, $993; W. J. Schmidt, $475. The last named bid was accepted.

ROAD MATTERS.

A resolution was adopted directing the county engineer to establish a grade and official curb for Fruitvale avenue from the San Leandro road to the old county road. As the poles for the Highland Park and Fruitvale Electric Road are in the street, the Clerk was directed to serve notice on W. F. Rudolph, the receiver, to remove them to the curb line.

County Surveyor Nusbaumer filed plans and specifications for grading the Pleasanton county road. He estimated the cost at $750.

A petition was received, signed by F. A. Berlin and others, asking that High street be extended to Redwood road. Action was postponed for one week.

Sheriff C. B. White made a requisition for cooking utensils for the County Jail. Granted.

Matilda Miller, an inmate of the County Jail, asked for thirty days' credit. Granted.

Reports were filed from the following road foremen: Edwin Whipple, Decoto; J. B. Barnard, Niles.

The action of Supervisor Wells in disposing of old lumber in the Pleasanton and Alvarado road districts was approved. Supervisor Talcott's sale of old lumber was also approved.

Supervisor Church's sale of the old lumber of the Webster street bridge was also approved.

A petition was received from residents of Fitchburg and Elmhurst, asking that the water rates be fixed the same as in Oakland for the ensuing year. On Supervisor Church's motion, action was postponed for one week, and in the meantime the petition was referred to the District Attorney.

THE PRINTING SCHEDULE.

The printing schedule again held the attention of the Board. Shortly before adjournment, Supervisor Church introduced a resolution cutting Expert Phillips' price on blank books 6 per cent.

Supervisor Roeth immediately offered an amendment cutting the price 10 per cent. The amendment received no second, and the original motion carried, with only Supervisor Roeth opposing it.

County Clerk Jordan announced that 500 copies of the schedule would be needed. Supervisor Roeth then moved that the printing of the blanks be left to the printing committee.

Supervisor Church amended giving the printing to the Alameda Argus. Supervisor Talcott seconded the motion.

Supervisor Roeth then wanted the Board to receive bids for the printing of the blanks.

"This should properly be left to the printing committee," he declared. "At least, we should have figures on the printing, as we Supervisors are supposed to fix the price."

Supervisor Roeth declared that it was the duty of the Board to fix the price.

Supervisor Church then introduced a resolution giving the printing of the 500 copies of the schedule to the Alameda Argus proportionate to the prices paid in previous years.

Roeth again objected, but the motion was carried.

Then Clerk Jordan read off a list of blanks, which would be needed when the Stratton primary law went into effect, and also made a price list to be used.

Then Supervisor Roeth wanted the advertising rates reduced.

Clerk Jordan drew up a resolution fixing the prices for advertising the same as adopted in 1895.

Supervisor Roeth wanted to amend, making a cut of 6 per cent.

The Clerk explained that the resolution as drawn would mean no increase, as the price for a square of 234 ems for all insertions after the fifth would be 30 cents instead of 35.

The resolution was then passed, only Supervisor Roeth voting no.

The Board then adjourned for one week.

PICNICS AT SHELL MOUND PARK.
October 24th—Ancient Order of United Druids.

MONDAY.....OCTOBER 18, 1897.

It is now estimated that half a million ballots will be cast at the New York election. The expenses, too, will be somewhere near the same figure.

The completion of the Masonic Home at Decoto will not be long delayed now. The Grand Lodge has appropriated the necessary money so all is smooth sailing.

Fifty millions will, it is believed, come out of the Clondyke next year. As Colonel Sellers would say, "that's money," and what is more, it is of the right color.

Populist deputies around the sheriff's office don't find the ground very secure under their feet these days. Poet Dutton is doubtless now expressing himself in blank verse.

It is announced that Edison is the inventor of 711 patents. No one will openly accuse the wizard of shooting craps, but this combination of 7-11 is, to say the least, suspicious.

Another victim of college hazing has been heard from, a student having been paralyzed for life during some alleged fun at the Colorado university. Hazing and rushes should be relegated to oblivion.

Another theater has proved to be a death trap and a number of lives have been sacrificed in consequence. It is to be hoped that the shake up the San Francisco theaters got after the fire scare at the Orpheum has brought about the safeguards that were desired.

Cuba seems to be a very unfortunate part of the globe just now. War and famine stalk through her settlements and the storm king rages on her coast. The loss of a vessel carrying with it 200 lives is the latest piece of news from that land where death is holding high carnival.

Congressman Barlow's admissions on the witness stand will not do the Populist cause much good in his part of the country. The only reason he advances for having undertaken to work for a big claim against the government is his ignorance of any wrong doing being involved thereby. He is therefore on the horns of the dilemma of being either a fool or a knave.

If the straw vote that has been taken in New York denotes anything like the condition of affairs, the fight between Van Wyck and Henry George will be a battle royal in every sense of the term. Tammany is doubtless grateful to the papers for having taken up the matter for it has disclosed the weak spots and the tigers can now get in the effects of good organization.

With Rudyard Kipling scooping in a dollar a word for his poems and Anthony Hope, Conan Doyle and Hall Caine getting rich at the rate of from $10,000 to $30,000 a year, no wonder literary hacks are on the increase. There never was such a flood of novels in the world's history, and it is a conservative estimate to say that they are being turned out at the rate of thirty a day.

They are very anxiously announcing that the visit to America of Princess Kaluiani, who for some years past has been sojourning in England, has nothing to do with annexation politics. Maybe so, but it is a little odd that she finds it necessary to come over at this particular time, when the royalists are straining every energy in a supreme effort to prevent their cause from being blotted out. Princess Kaluiani, or Miss Cleghorn, as she now calls herself, is the lineal regal descendant and is successor of ex-Queen Lil to the throne of the Kamehamehas.

DON'T GO NORTH.

The Clondyke proposition has at last sifted down to where a good idea can be obtained of the situation up there. Contrary to the early anticipations, a number of reports have got through from the correspondents who reached Dawson City and taking their communications as a whole, one can grasp the idea of exactly what prevails in the Yukon treasure land.

First and foremost, it must be conceded that the man who would throw up a good position here to make the trip north next spring is nothing more nor less than a fool. That there is gold there, and lots of it, is certain but it is equally certain that with the exception of the favored few who got in at the first rush, the yellow metal is hard to get. Arrivals at Dawson City now find themselves confronted with the fact that every available claim is staked out and in order to get a paying location it will be necessary to start out, pack on back, and find it. And it will be no easy task to locate it. There are lots of miners on the scene who have been prospecting thereabouts for years and have never yet struck anything worth figuring on. It is no joke, either, to prospect in a country where the privations and hardships are so severe as they are in the northland. Not one man out of fifty of the host that has already started for the Yukon will probably ever make more than wages out of the venture, and they will be lucky to have that average. Mr. Punch's celebrated advice is appropriate just now for those who are planning to go north next spring, it is ——Don't.

ENTERPRISE IS ASTIR.

San Francisco is on the eve of making a vast step in her progress, that is provided that plans to bond the city for improvements are successfully carried through. As we of Oakland are more or less on the other side of the bay at times, it is pleasing to learn that among the projects set forth in connection with the bond issue is to bituminize Market street and make it a modern thoroughfare. Then there is the park proposition. Some of the progressive element are trying to urge the authorities to undertake the panhandle plan proposed by Frank McCoppin twenty years ago. His idea was to extend it through to Market street by purchasing or condemning the intervening property. It would cost about $2,000,000 to make the extension referred to, for a whole block of land would be required clear down between Tell and Oak streets to Market. This, however, would be a comparatively easy sum to raise on a bond issue, and the benefits obtained in return would be far in advance of the value of the money expended. With Market street properly paved and the Panhandle extended to the junction of Tell, Post and Market there would be a continuous drive from the ferry to the Cliff House with no grades worth speaking of to contend with.

As regards the other proposition to purchase the property between the City Hall and Market street and turn it into a park, it is scarcely likely anything will be done now in that line. The expense would be enormous, for although no very costly structures have been put up on the property in question, still the holders of even the one-story buildings would demand fabulous prices. The clamor for the change is interesting when one recalls the fact that the city once owned all the property in question and the City Hall Commissioners sold it so as to get money with which to build the Hall. They only got about a million out of it, and now that the Hall is constructed and they want the land back, the chances are it will be held for three or four millions. However, as San Francisco is talking of a fifty million dollar bond issue, she can afford all these things if the people say they want them.

Africa seems destined to pass into the hands of the European powers and a hundred years from now will doubtless see the flag of one nation or the other floating over every part of the Dark Continent. Portugal is extending her colonies on the east coast, Belgium is about to extend a protectorate over the entire Congo State, Italy is pressing down from the north and England working up from the south, while France is strengthening her possessions on the northern line and Germany is alert in the west. It will be strange indeed if the invaders don't start quarreling with one another as soon as the pickings get short.

General Booth of Salvation Army fame has gone to Germany to hold a monster revival and expresses the hope that he may be able to convert the Kaiser. Such talk savors of sacrilege, for has not the young Emperor himself declared that he is the Regent of Heaven. Booth will trip up over that lese majeste hurdle if he doesn't look out.

The Archbishop of Paris has organized an institute the object of which is the conversion of England. Perhaps he had better pay a little attention to the French capital before he crosses the channel, or else he may be reminded of that old saying about those who live in glass houses.

The dispatches announce that the Khedive of Egypt is "broke." There is no news in that, but there would be in an item that he had money. He and his nephew, the Sultan of Turkey, have been living where the financial grass is short for many years past.

An Oregon clergyman has been convicted of obtaining money under false pretenses for an improvement club in which he was interested. He evidently gave his flock ideas in how to improve the pocket as well as the soul.

FASHION'S FANCIES.

A late inside trimming for dress skirts consists of balayeuses of silk in rows, introducing a number of different colors in succession. In one handsome gown the lining garniture takes in the seven colors of the rainbow. A balayeuse, by the way, is a dust ruffle or sweep.

The newest laces are Spanish blonde, Irish guipure and Renaissance Astrachan for vests is an assured winter trimming. Lozenge buttons, framing medallions and enameled flowers in rows of brilliants and colored gems, are pronounced quite smart on cloth gowns and handsome applique trimmings are composed of white cloth and bright shades of moire velvet.

The finger nail diamond decoration is an announced new fashion that will doubtless be somewhat exclusive for reasons that need scarcely be stated. As the story goes, a tiny gold cap is made for the tip of each finger and a big diamond drop is suspended from the outer side of each cap. And now that the style is proposed, one wonders why diamond dealers and jewelry designers have permitted finger nails to go down unadorned through so many centuries.

A close student of harmony asserts that a woman dressed in velvets, rich silks and jets, when out calling, should choose a stately and luxurious arm chair in the parlor of her hostess. If she has "chanced in" informally in her tailor-made suit, she poses to better advantage in a straight-backed chair or one with severly plain outlines. When she is in her tea gown, either as guest or visitor, she should sink with unstudied grace amid the cushions of a divan or davenport. And this is not all. It is furthermore claimed that the manner and the voice should be directed by and attuned to the varied environments of these different occasions.

A writer in St. James's Budget thus compares the dress of English and French women at rural summer resorts: "While the English woman is faithful to the blouse, which often bears traces of bad packing, her French sister is radiant in pretty foulards or striped black and white glaces, and is as carefully dressed and turned out as she would be at home. If she does occasionally favor a bodice distinct from the skirt, it is daintily trimmed with lace, well drawn into a full waist belt, and most neatly arranged."

Close attention to form measurements does away with any possibility of misfit in mail orders. Women in country places may have neat and up-to-date gowns made by city dress-makers if they observe the following rules: Tie a tape tightly around the waist line and make all your measurements to it. Take the length of back by measuring from center of the neck, tightly, down the back to the waistline. For a long front, let the tape pass from the center of the back of the neck over the middle of the right shoulder and bust down to the center of the front to waist-line. For a short front measure loosely from the neck to the waist-line. Take the length under the arm by placing the tape close under the arm and carrying it in straight length to the waist-line tightly. When measuring the long side of the arm, bend the arm to form a right angle and measure from the elbow joint outside up to the top of the arm where the bodice meets the sleeve, then from the elbow down to the wrist-line. The short arm length is determined by inside measurements of the arm slightly bent from the point to which the sleeve joins the bodice down to the inside line of the wrist. Take the arm-hole size by passing the tape under the arm and over the center of the collar bone, loosely. The tape passed loosely around the bent elbow will give the elbow bend, and the tape around the slightly bent hand will give the cuff size. Take also the inches around the neck, around the waist, and around the fullest part of the bust. A skirt order should specify the front and back lengths and side length over the hips, and give the waist measurement.

Ellen Terry has a very simple recipe for the retention of youth and beauty. You must work till tired, sleep till rested, have plenty of fresh air, live in cool rooms, take a daily sponge bath and eat the simplest food.

The University of Missouri receives $33,023 from the estate of the late John C. Conley, under the operation of a law recently passed by the Legislature, which provides that if a man dies leaving no father, mother or direct lineal descendant, a certain per cent. of his estate, including any amount left for charitable purposes, must go to the State University.

A curious landslip occurred a few days ago in the village of Sattel, in Canton Schwyz. An inn situated by the side of a road which runs across the slope of a hill was carried, without sustaining any injury, thirty-five feet down the hillside, stopping just short of being precipitated into the River Steinen. The road in front of the house, the garden and all the immediate surroundings of the inn are intact. By the house were two large elms, and even these have in no way suffered.

PAN.

Oh, what are heroes, prophets, men,
But pipes through which the breath of Pan doth blow
A momentary music. Being's tide
Swells hitherward, and myriads of forms
Live, robed with beauty, painted by the sun;
Their dust, pervaded by the nerves of God,
Throbs with an overmastering energy
Knowing and doing. Ebbs the tide, they lie
While hollow shells upon the desert shore.
But not the less the eternal wave rolls on
To animate new millions, and exhale
Races and planets, its enchanted foam.
—Emerson.

A kindergarten teacher was recently reviewing her little class on the instruction given the day previous. The following is a part of the questions and answers:

Teacher—Now, children, I told you yesterday about the various materials from which your dresses are made—silk, wool and cotton. Let me see how well you remember. Margie, where did the material come from of which your dress is made?

Margie—It once grew upon the back of a sheep.

Teacher—Very good, and yours, Blanche?

Blanche—My dress once grew upon the back of a sheep, and a part of it was spun by the silkworm.

Teacher—Correct, and yours, Lucy?

Lucy (with evident embarrassment)—My dress was made out of an old one of mamma's.—Union Signal.

Choice in Her Terms.—"You," shrieked the up-to-date young woman to the umpire at the last game, "you are positively decadent!"—Indianapolis Journal.

Fable of the Ant and the Grasshopper.—Now, when the frost was on the pumpkin and the tassels on the corn, the grasshopper struck the ant for something to eat.

"What have you been doing all summer?" asked the ant.

"I have been singing all summer," said the grasshopper.

"Then you may dance all winter," said the ant.

"Thank you," said the grasshopper.

This fable teaches that even grand opera people are dead glad to get a chance to go into vaudeville.—Detroit Journal.

He was Indignant.—"Miss Grigson says you are too big a coward to kiss a girl."

"Did she say that?"

Should See Her.—"She is a very business-like young woman," remarked one young man.

"Yes," replied the other; "but I admire a clinging nature."

"Then you ought to see her some time when she is trying to hold on to a dollar."—Washington Star.

Carefully Reared.—Fond Mamma—I am so glad you had such a nice time at Mrs. Tiptop's, and I hope she noticed how carefully you had been brought up. You did not ask twice for dessert, did you?

Small Son—No, indeed, ma. I didn't have to. Every time I finished a dish and began scraping the saucer with the spoon and smacking my lips, the waiter came and brought me some more without saying a word.—New York Weekly.

The Sphinx's Riddle.—Johnny—What is "the riddle of the sphinx?"

Papa (with a meaning glance at Mamma)—The riddle of the sphinx is this: How can she, being at least part woman, sit there year after year and century after century without ever saying a word. Ah, my boy, I guess it'll never be answered, either.—Cleveland Leader.

SNAP SHOTS.

Ellen Terry is an exquisite needlewoman.

Firmness is what a man has himself and stubborness is what his wife has.

Mrs. Margaret E. Sangster has gone to Nashville. She is to read one of her poems on Brooklyn Day at the exhibition, October 12th.

And a great stir has been made all over the land because Mrs. E. H. Paul of Chicago has shouldered a broom and taken her place at the head of a street cleaning gang.

The world doesn't stop to consider that this is no new enterprise for women. Haven't they been shouldering brooms for years?

Newspapers half a century ago often printed verses of a humorous nature in connection with marriage notices. An instance of this kind is to be seen among the newspaper clippings, yellowed with age, in an old lady's scrapbook. It was taken from a Boston paper nearly 50 years ago:

Married, in Boston, May 22, 1850, by Rev. Mr. Stow, Mr. Z. T. Taylor to Miss Mary Parrott, both of Boston.

Among all birds that fly or swim,
There's but one of any use
To a tailor in his business,
And that one is a goose.

But there's a Taylor who has pressed
His own suit very nice
With a Parrot that we hope will prove
A Bird of Paradise.

Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, noted as the foundress and chief exponent of the Christian Science doctrine, received the other day a beautiful present from her pupils in Kansas City. It was a coronet of gold, tastefully worked and finished with enamel. In the coronet were set five large, beautiful diamonds, seven smaller diamonds and 43 glistening pearls, large and small.

Ina Hammer's Success.

Miss Ina Hammer, a former Oakland girl who went on the stage and is now with the "Never Again" Company, has won favorable comment on her performance of the leading role during the enforced retirement of Mary Robson. The critic of the Pittsburg Herald, in writing of the Oakland girl's acting, says:

"It seems a pity that Miss Hammer should contribute so large a share to the entertainment and be rewarded by the placing of the credit to an actress so firmly established that comment upon her work is almost superfluous. Occasionally there is a theater-goer whose memory retains the name of some inconspicuous player who has 'done nobly.' In the future credit will be given where it is due."

DAVIS MAKES A FORMAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

Consents to the Using of His Name for Gubernatorial Honors.

W. R. Davis made a formal announcement Saturday that he is a candidate for Governor, although it was well known that Mr. Davis was in the fight, he had not made any formal answer to the petition that was presented to him, asking that he allow his name to be used.

Mr. Davis says:

"Gentlemen: Your request that my consent be given allowing you to present my name "to the people of the State for the office of Governor" has been placed in my hands. You state that you believe that "Alameda county is justly entitled to special recognition at the hands of the Republicans of California"—a conclusion with which I cannot but concur. We have for many years contributed to every Republican majority the State has had. Our majority of 5237 in 1896, as is known to every Republican in the State, wiped out the Democratic majority, found upon summing up all the other counties in the State, and saved California to the National Republican column, in which she rightfully belongs. Assuredly, this was no small service. I am not unaware that our Republican friends in the other counties join heartily in the sentiment that "special recognition is justly due to Alameda county."

He concludes by giving the desired permission to use his name in connection with the Guebrnatorial nomination.

FRUITVALE BELIEVES IN EDUCATION.

The Election Results in Favor of School Bonds for $15,000.

The election on Saturday last to determine whether or not bonds shall be issued for the erection of a new school at Fruitvale resulted in a vote almost unanimous in favor of the proposition. There were 168 votes cast, and of these 159 were in favor o. the question, 28 were against it and one vote was thrown out because of informality.

The proposition was for $15,000 bonds, and as a consequence, that amount will be issued immediately. The district owns a tract of land in the southern part of the territory and it is the intention, if possible, of the trustees to trade the same for another tract south of the old county road and east of Sausal Creek. When this transfer is made a building suitable for the school children of the district will be erected.

Can Cut Cohen Trees.

One of the features in the fight between Cohen and the City of Alameda was settled this morning by a stipulation allowing the dismissal in Judge Greene's court of a suit in which the question of the restraning order was the issue. The petitioner sought to prevent the town from cutting down trees in Buena Vista avenue. C. K. Taylor, attorney for the defendant, however, produced a Supreme Court decision giving authority to the city to act in the premises, whereupon a dismissal of the case was decided upon. The city of Alameda, therefore, is at liberty to cut down the Cohen gum trees which have long been a bone of contention.

JAILS ARE CONDEMNED

Dr. Wendte Would Do Away With City and County Prisons.

REFORMS ARE GREATLY NEEDED

Criminals Made Worse by the Indiscriminate Herding Together.

FITZGERALD'S SHARP CRITICISM

Chief of Police Lloyd Wants Better Accomodations in This City.

Robert M. Fitzgerald, State Prison Commissioner; Chief of Police Lloyd, and the Rev. Dr. Wendte discussed prison reforms at an open meeting of the Starr King Fraternity in the First Unitarian Church last evening. Dr. Wendte had prepared a paper on "County Jails," which, in his absence, was read by George A. Evans.

"On the whole," said he, having indicated some of the evils of the State Prisons, "bad as is the management of most of our State penal institutions, their condition is vastly better than that of our county and city jails. The center and source of the mal-administration, extravagance, and corruption of our American prison system, is the county jail. President Hayes declared that the county jail system in the United States is a disgrace to civilization. The office of Sheriff is usually considered the most desirable in the county, both as regards its profits and political power, and he is usually, also the warden of the prison; his subordinates are selected less for their fitness than as a reward for party or personal service. But who ever heard of a Sheriff being elected because he knew anything about the office of jailor, or would exert a beneficial influence on the prisoners? It is not too much to say that every institution where the system of non-classification of prisoners exists, is a nursery of crime; that no offender enters it who doesn't leave a worse man or woman. To add to its pernicious influence, our prison system allows no manual labor to be performed in county jails, no schools for the instruction of their inmates, and no moral or religious teacher is connected with it, except unofficially.

"The only permanent improvement of our local jails is to abolish them altogether, as features of county and city administration, and turn them over to the State. The next impending reform, therefore, is the abolition of the city and county jails, as such."

Mr. Fitzgerald criticised the California prison system. He said:

"We are working under what is known as the congregate system—that is, the prisoners are virtually all together. Eight hundred of them work in one large room in the jute mill and 1,300 sit down together in the dining room and are together before 'lock up' and on Sundays and holidays in the yard. The same system is followed at Folsom, with its 900 inmates. Here let me say that there are to be found in each lesson some of the worst criminals known to the law. Criminals by nature, by instinct; men who will recklessly violate every precept of morality, every mandate of nature and every law of man or God.

"Think of a system that compels the turning into such a crowd as this boys from sixteen to twenty-one years of age, and young men from that to thirty years of age, and say that one object of imprisonment is to reform. It is impossible to attempt to reform under such circumstances. The State commits a crime every time she compels a boy or a young man to associate with old, abandoned, and hardened criminals. Under the most favorable circumstances it is difficult to reform a convict, and under this pernicious system the few who might have been reformed are hopelessly lost and forced by the strong arm of the law to associate with thieves and outlaws. Instead of reforming, the State is educating criminals every day, and turning out moral degenerates, who are more of a menace to society than the leprous, the smallpox or yellow fever patient.

"It matters little whether the confirmed criminal is the product of heredity or environment. The hereditary criminal usually seeks such environments as tend to promote moral degeneracy and crime. The offspring then comes into the world handicapped both by heredity and environment. The result is inevitable, the conclusion irresistible. Confirmed criminals ought not presses himself upon the younger men to be permitted to propogate their kind.

"The hardened criminal always im- and directs their movements with a skill and authority which is hard to overcome and never can be entirely prevented. He incites the young and reckless prisoners to the commission of acts of lawlessness in the prison, plans various schemes of escapes and outbreaks, and very frequently takes no part in these matters himself, thus escaping the punishment and loss of credits which would follow, but ready to take advantage, if the young men prove successful in their attempts. It is no wonder, then, we are reaping the harvest of such a system; a system which is turning out to-day criminals, educated and prepared for the commission of crime, just as our schools and universities are turning out men equipped for the battle of life.

"All this can be remedied with a very little assistance on the part of the Legislature. The Board of Directors and the officers are powerless without such assistance. The proper system, in my opinion, is the progressive classification system where the prisoner by good conduct and a disposition to do better, to reform if he please, can gain his promotion from one class to another; where the prison authorities can keep the young men and boys when first termers in a separate part of the prison, and away from the older and hardened class of criminals.

"All that is required is additional prison room, and this would not cost the State a large amount of money. We could at Folsom, where we have unlimited quarries of granite, with all the help that is necessary, put up additional buildings which would not cost the State of California more than $1 for each $5 if such buildings had to be built by contract. In this additional building there should be enough single cells to keep the incorrigibles and disturbers away from all of the prisoners. A model prison could be constructed with comparatively little cost.

"Our criminal system, in my opinion, deserves criticism; and in some particulars censure. We send a man to prison for a definite period, and when the end o this term comes the authorities know that he goes forth only to commit crime. In such a case, such a man should not be discharged until there is at least reasonable ground to suppose that he will make an attempt to live the life of a good citizen."

Chief Lloyd's Address.

Chief Lloyd spoke as follows:

"Prison systems, and reforms that should obtain therein, is a subject that can only be properly handled by that individual or by that society having given months of time to a careful and earnest personal study of the various systems in vogue in this and in other countries, for, in the very nature of things, the problem, 'Are our prison systems in the abstract, properly constructed and conducted?' is a problem which, if solved in the interest of humanity, can never be solved from hearsay evidence.

"My practical knowledge of prison systems, rules and regulations, is of course largely confined to that gained during the two years that I have been at the head of the Oakland, Police Department. To be sure, prior to that, and even since my inauguration as Chief of Police, I have had certain theories in reference to the subject, a number of which have since proven to be erroneous as to conclusion and impractical of execution; and as I am convinced that our Oakland City Prison is probably one of the poorest as to sanitation, light and necessary accommodation in the United States, it would be manifestly unfair and improper that I should take a position based upon conditions existing in our City Prison, and from that enter upon a criticism of prisons and prison systems in general.

"Right here I want to say, however, that I am entirely opposed to the theory advanced by some people that jails and prisons (dark, cheerless and unhealthy as they may be) at the very worst are none too bad for those outcasts from society who are forced to become tenants thereof. I do not believe the theory advanced by these same persons that the punishment for those sentenced to imprisonment consists in the discomfort, cheerlessness and misery of the prison cell, rather than to the loss of liberty, and I am antoganistic to the sentiment contained in the following, which I have taken from a Portland, Oregon, paper:

"'A jail ought to be a disagreeable place. The less attraction the better. It should not be so comfortable, so well furnished, so clean and so attractive as to be thought desirable as a place of residence; but so uncomfortable in every possible way as to be regarded as an excellent place to keep out of. . . . The inmates of our jails fare as well as they deserve, and better. If delicate and sentimental women do not like the atmosphere of the jail, they may stay away from it. Their maudlin sympathy with the inmates of jails is a phase of weakness and silliness that might well be spared.'

"Do you know I have a great deal of sympathy for an individual who feels so badly in mind and body as to be able to write such an article as that? And he deserves much sympathy, for he is a moral dyspeptic certainly, and more than likely he is a physical dyspeptic as well, and talks from a disordered mind and stomach. I do not believe that punishment for prisoners lies in their treatment in jail. I believe that in the great majority of first offenders the punishment of imprisonment lies in the disgrace attached—the ostracism from good society that must follow, and that in other cases the punishment for those incarcerated lies in the solitary confinement, the restraint of their personal liberty and the right and power to go where and when they please.

"Furthermore, to improve the condition of the prison does not mean to furnish the cell with brussels carpet, handsome pictures, easy chairs, drape the entrance and the grated window with rich Oriental lace curtains, and furnish the table with all the delicacies of the season. We may contend for a proper regard for health and cleanliness without desiring to proceed to these extremes. We may speak of proper light for the prison without advocating that the cell be flooded with light from gorgeous chandeliers. Health and comfort does not necessarily imply luxury. The theory that in order to properly punish a criminal and give him a proper respect for prison life and dread of the crime that leads to its portals, he should be banished to an underground cell in a badly ventilated jail, be fed on bread and water and made as miserable and uncomfortable as possible, is a pernicious one, and smacks of the Dark Ages and the horrors of the Inquisition.

"From the information that I have been able to gather from annual reports of Chiefs of Police sent to me from all over the country, I am pretty much convinced that our prison systems, the rules and regulations and the quality and quantity of food and clothing furnished, are much in advance of the character of the buildings themselves, with of course some notable exceptions. Prison reform is needed in this country in the architecture of the prison, and that reform cannot be brought about any too quickly. Why do we go to the expense of erecting magnificent City Halls and County Jails whose stately walls tower on high, and then burrow underground like moles to build the jail proper? Prisons should be built with the idea of reforming the criminal instincts of the prisoner—not to exterminate him. It seems to me that a false idea of economy on the part of city and county officials has caused them to build their prisons underground on the plan of dungeons, narrow, cramped affairs, where dampness, darkness, mildew and disgusting aromas prevail in spite of the most determined efforts on the part of jailers to keep them cleanly, and where, because the light of day cannot enter, filth, vermin and disease have every opportunity to fester, simmer and stew.

"It is very unfortunate, it seems to me, that prisons are not constructed in such a manner that those in charge may have the opportunity to classify the prisoners, and that the proper amount of effort will result in comparative cleanliness. Unfortunate that the prison is not constructed in such a manner that the light will not be excluded and sufficiently commodious that compartments might be reserved for old and chronic criminals, vicious and debased, others for occasional drunks and milder class of offenders, and still others for boys and first offenders in whom there is hope of reform; with an entirely separate prison for women, arranged on the same plan; with the kitchen located as in any up-to-date establishment, where the aromas arising might waste themselves in the air and not vitiate the atmosphere of the entire building.

"In this day of progress and advancement, thinking men and women realize that prisons should be reformatories and not pest houses. To be sure, the criminal, in one sense, is placed in confinement in order that society may be relieved of the danger of his presence while his reformation is being attempted, and there are many so brutal and low that they should be in continual confinement; but it is an inhuman, erroneous and dangerous policy to render the prison such a disease breeder that filth brought in by some may spread over the entire structure, and germs carried forth by those who depart at the termination of their sentence.

"I wish to note in passing that recently during this series Professor Greenleaf, a very able and eloquent gentleman, severely criticised the sanitary condition of the Oakland City Prison. However, I am not here to dispute any of the criticisms indulged by that gentleman. Perverting somewhat the language of Marc Antony, I will say, 'I am not come to bury Greenleaf, but to corroborate and praise him.' The very conditions in the Oakland prison that he referred to are the consequence of so building a jail that dirt and bad atmosphere oadly outwit the most persistent efforts at cleanliness. The professor did not refer to the cleanliness of the City Prison, and if he had I should have been obliged to get after his conclusions rather sharply, for there is not a prison in this land where there is a more determined effort to insure cleanliness than this one. It is scrubbed and scoured, plied with disinfectants daily, and recently the entire prison, cells, corridors and kitchen, has been painted, and only a short time ago the plumbers overhauled the entire place, new closets and bath were put in, and every precaution taken to improve the sanitary condition, and the floors would do justice to the most scrupulous housekeeper.

"In spite of our most determined efforts, the prison is unfit for human habitation, even those who are placed in charge being in constant fear that their health will be undermined in the hole in the ground known as the Oakland City Prison, and it is plainly a waste of money to repair it. We are so cramped for room that all classes of criminals are often necessarily dumped together, and we are absolutely helpless in the case of sick prisoners, for we have no accommodations for well men, much less those afflicted, and the city has no hospital to which such cases may be transferred for proper attention.

"I believe that while the citizens are advocating a public park they should also interest themselves in the erection of a new City Hall and prison that will be a credit to this beautiful Athens of the Pacific, and against which such just criticism as that indulged by Professor Greenleaf could not be truthfully uttered. Not until this is done will the proper conditions prevail in the City Prison.

"I want to say that such a sentiment as that written by the Portland editor with reference to the interest taken by some of our women in prisons and prison life, which I have already quoted, is a sentiment that does not do honor to the reason of the individual harboring it, nor to his knowledge of the work that these women accomplish. I insist that 99 per cent of the women who interest themselves in this work are neither silly nor maudlin sentimentalists, but noble mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of the republic, in whose bosoms, thank God, beat pure, unselfish, Samaritan hearts. To the visits of just such women as these may be traced much of the restraint and obedience that obtains in all our prisons. Jails nearly always contain a number of the most wicked and vicious class of criminals, and yet it is noticeable that they are mild and respectful in the presence of these women, and the quieting effects of their visits may be noticed for hours after they have departed. There is no way of computing the number of heartbroken first offenders and young boys who have been strengthened to try to go forth and be good citizens by the kindly sympathy and helpful words of these women whom those inclined to be dyspeptic would term silly and maudlin sentimentalists.

"Much of the crime in the land today is largely due to that grim enemy of progress, 'want,' to that disturber of civilization and society 'enforced idleness' in a land of plenty. Listen to the following words used by Superintendent of Police Badenoch of Chicago, who is now a prominent business man there:

"'A notable fact incident to the distribution of relief for the poor by the city, which distribution was placed in the hands of this department, is the great reduction in the number of crimes committed while the said relief was being given, thus clearly indicating that which was already well known to this department, and establishing the fact that a great many of the crimes and miscemeanors prevalent during the past winter were simply the result of the desperate condition of the poor, the great number of men willing to work who were unable to find employment. There seemed to be no alternative other than to steal or starve.'

"Do not these words strike a responsive chord in our hearts? Should prisons be made as dreary and miserable as possible for such as these?

"Should we not have facilities to discriminate in behalf of the prison life of such people? Think you that these desperate poor, willing and anxious to work to earn a living, but unable to secure employment, would exchange their freedom and the poorest honest living for idleness and confinement in prison, even though that prison should be the best in all this land? Nonsense. Do not say to me that the man unable to find employment who, in desperation, steals to provide for a starving family, deserves no better fate than to be hurled into a cell underground, which cell has been made as miserable and unhealthy as possible by the good citizens of free America. That because of a false idea of economy he should be locked in with the most vicious criminals. Do you think that the widow and mother who in desperation seizes a pair of shoes from the merchant's store to cover the little feet of her shivering child should be thrown into a cell in the City Prison as a companion for the harlot and shameless woman of the town? Is it humane that those whom we pick up on our streets, guilty of no greater crime than that of being sick or penniless in free America, should be compelled to remain in prison with the vile and vicious—a prison that is well nigh a death trap for a sound and healthy man? Such a policy is as pernicious as crime itself, and yet we have had many just such harrowing cases as those mentioned right here in this City Prison.

"Let me say to you that 'we, the people' are responsible for much of the 'error' in this world so often misnamed crime; for much of the 'weakness' often catalogued as shame, and for much of the 'despair' so often wrongly published broadcast as vice—responsible because we do not arise and crush out injustice, oppression, cruelty and inhumanity, and because we do not recognize more frequently in our daily lives as citizens and as officials, the principles of the Golden Rule, 'Do unto others as ye would that others should do unto you'."

JEWISH AIMS AND AMBITIONS.

Rabbi Friedlander Indicates the Future of the Hebrew Race.

Rabbi Friedlander closed the festivals of the Jewish holidays last evening by delivering a lecture on "Our Present Attitude as Jews and Citizens." He said in part:

"History is our witness that Israel has accomplished much. The justice and freedom, the religion and morality, the tolerance and brotherhood, which prompt and guide civilized humanity, now are the lessons taught by Israel in bitterness and in suffering. Now the question is: Have we accomplished our mission? If we have, then the great advocate of the Zionistic movement, Dr. Nordau, is right in saying that Israel has suffered enough of the world's injustice and it is time we should seek for a place of rest and honor; but if we have not, then it remains our duty as the world's missionaries, to bend our heads in sorrow to the wrongs and prejudices of ungrateful humanity and continue teaching and preaching, hoping and praying.

"But our mission today among the nations is of a more immediate yet no less significant character. Dr. Nordeau complains that the Jewish emancipation in Western Europe was not the result of sentiment, but the demand of logic. Here it is where our mission now begins—that is the creating among our neighbors a warm, living sentiment of brotherhood. And our first step in this direction is the making ourselves understood: to make the world understand our teachings in the synagogue, our affections in the family, our loyalty to the country, and our support to education. Those of wider experience will agree with me that most of the prejudices against the Jews still entertained by some of enlightened Christendom is a consequence of a misunderstanding they still have of us, our life and our teaching. Let us remove the misunderstanding and warm sentiment will take the place of cold logic, neighborly friendship the place of irrational prejudice, union of effort to promote those principles of our government for which our fathers suffered and upon which our happiness as citizens depend, will take the place of separateness and differences and religious creed and church dogma. This is our attitude in the present and this will be the task of our children in the future."

UNHAPPY FATE OF BETTY GIRARD.

A Society Favorite and Actress an Inmate of Bellevue Hospital.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The Herald says: "Bettina Girard, the actress and former society belle, is now a patient at Bellevue Hospital. Miss Girard, who is entered on the hospital books as Betty Schuyler, 28 years old, was taken to Bellevue on September 23d last, broken down in health, so that she was scarcely more than a wreck of her former self.

"The physician who has charge of Miss Girard's case refused to talk about the affliction, but it was learned that the young woman is partly paralyzed and may never recover entirely the use of her limbs. But in spite of her illness and suffering, Miss Girard is remarkably cheerful at times.

"Miss Girard began her reign as a favorite in the most exclusive society in Washington. She is a daughter of General Albert Ordway, a member of one of the proudest families of the national capital. Some years ago she married Padelford, who lavished wealth on her for a time but soon obtained a divorce. After her divorce she became Bettina Girard, actress. Her experiences during the past few years have been varied and interesting. Among her husbands were John J. Raffael a tenor of the Conreid Opera Company; John Harrison Wolfe, leading man in "Old Kentucky," and William Beach in the Nat Goodwin Company."

TORPEDO BOATS AGAINST FILIBUSTERS.

A Scheme to Make Them Useful in Watching Friends of Cuba.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—A special to the Herald from Washington says: "Commander R. B. Bradford, chief of the Bureau of Equipment, has suggested to the Navy Department that torpedo boats be placed to prevent filibustering. Commander Bradford found that vessels of the draught and displacement of the cruiser Montgomery and gunboats Wilmington and Nashville were awkward to handle among the Florida keys and could not enter indentations in the coasts where expeditions were formed. It is the opinion of officers on duty in the Department that filibustering could probably be entirely prevented by a torpedo boat patrol.

DANGER IN SODA.

Serious Results Sometimes Follow Its Excessive Use

Common soda is all right in its place and indispensable in the kitchen and for cooking and washing purposes, but it was never intended for a medicine, and people who use it as such will some day regret it.

We refer to the common use of soda to relieve heartburn or sour stomach, a habit which thousands of people practice almost daily, and one which is fraught with danger, moreover the soda only gives temporary relief and in the end the stomach troubles gets worse and worse.

The soda acts as a mechanical irritant to the walls of the stomach and bowels and cases are on record where it accumulated in the intestines, causing death by inflammation or peritonitis.

Dr. Harlandson recommends as the safest and surest cure for sour stomach (acid dyspepsia) an excellent preparation sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. These tablets are large 20-grain lozenges, very pleasant to taste and contain the natural acids, pepsines and digestive elements essential to good digestion, and when taken after meals they digest the food perfectly and promptly before it has time to ferment, sour and poison the blood and nervous system.

Dr. Wulerth states that he invariably uses Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in all cases of stomach derangements and finds them a certain cure not only for sour stomach, but by promptly digesting the food they create a healthy appetite, increase flesh and strengthen the action of the heart and liver. They are not a cathartic, but intended only for stomach diseases and weakness and will be found reliable in any stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach. All druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at 50 cents per package.

A little book describing all forms of stomach weakness and their cure mailed free by addressing the Stuart Company of Marshall, Michigan.

REGARDING THE ARBITRATION IDEA.

Its Revival Will Depend on the Action of the English.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—A dispatch to the Herald from Washington says: "Unless the British Foreign Office presses the negotiations in connection with a general arbitration treaty, the matter will not again be taken up by this government. Neither the Administration nor the British Foreign Office has, during the last three months, shown any disposition to expedite the matter. Department officials declare that Great Britain must be the one to revive the subject if it is to be revived at all.

"A Cabinet official says that the President is still desirous of securing a treaty of arbitration with Great Britain. Mr. McKinley hoped that more interest would be taken by Great Britain in the matter than she has displayed so far. The authorities are apprently much chagrined over England's action in the Bering Sea matter, in which all the interested powers were to participate.

"Had the general arbitration treaty negotiated by the Cleveland Administration been approved, the court controversy in regard to seals could properly be considered by such a tribunal as proposed by that convention. Lord Salisbury would also be pleased to have the treaty in force, for then he could permit the sealing question to be arbitrated and point out to Canada that she was bound by the convention to take such action. Now, however, the negotiation of a general arbitration treaty might be considered by Canadians as indicative of a desire of the Salisbury Government to play into the hands of the United States."

THE HORRORS OF THE CLONDYKE.

Hundreds of People Return Paupers From the Land of Gold.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

ASPEN, Col., Oct. 18.—Professor M. Daggett, for many years a resident of this city, has returned to Aspen from a futile attempt to reach the Clondyke.

He reports hundreds of men who, a few months ago, left for the gold fields in the best of spirits and health and with well-filled pocket books, now returning heartsick and discouraged, dead broke and without a cent in the world. Of between 8,000 and 10,000 people who started for the Clondyke, fewer than 2,000 succeeded in getting over the passes.

Speaking of those who are returning, Professor Daggett states that their condition is deplorable.

Some idea of the number of men who are without means now in the country can be gained from the fact that twenty-six stowaways were discovered on the boat which brought the professor down. Not one of these possessed a cent and all were on the verge of starvation.

Circle City, heretofore the metropolis of the interior is absolutely deserted.

The conditions at Dawson City are much more encouraging. The town is lively and work plentiful. The food supply, however, is a source of worry.

SANTA FE, N. M., Oct. 18.—The hot fight going on between resident applicants and the large number of Ohio, Illinois and Indiana men who seek the appointments to Judgeships in New Mexico seem destined to delay action on the part of President McKinley until after Congress convenes in December, and when such appointments are made it seems more than probable that all the appointees will be non-residents. There is great disappointment in Administration circles here because of the delay.

THE EXCUSE OF BURMESE ASSAILANTS

Deluded Into the Belief That They Were Invulnerable by a Monk.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—A dispatch to the Times from Rangoon says: The Burmese now imprisoned at Mandalay for an attack upon the British residents on the 11th, when a gang of twenty-five, armed with long knives, rushed through the south gate at Mandalay fort and made for the residence of Major Dobbie, have confessed that their object was to expel the British.

"The monk who led the raiders intended to seize the throne. He had persuaded his followers to believe they were invulnerable and invincible.

COMING AND GOING OF PEOPLE.

Improvements Made in a Number of Lively Places.

MONEY IN THE BIG VINEYARDS.

Social Events Which Afford a Great Deal of Pleasure.

The principal happenings of the week, in a number of country towns, will be found recorded below:

IRVINGTON.

(From the Washington Press.)

The ladies of the church feel quite satisfied over the success of their pie social held at the residence of Mr. Durham last Saturday evening. About thirty persons were present and the evening was very enjoyably spent. The pies for sale were of all kinds and sizes, from a sawdust one made by a joking young lady up to the good old fashioned pumpkin one. Tags with numbers written on were passed around, each taking one, and the lady whose number corresponded with that of a gentleman ate pie with him. The boys did considerable angling to get their best girl, but the scheme was not a success and they had to take some other fellow's "best."

Miss Myrtle Vandervoort was tendered a pleasant surprise party Saturday evening in honor of her 17th birthday. A number of her young friends assembled in Clark's hall and enjoyed a social dance until midnight. About sixty young people were present. Refreshments were served during the evening.

George Emerson, who is attending Stanford University, is a member of the freshman foot-ball team.

Sam Vandervoort has been quite sick for the past week.

A number of Irvington people attended the dance at Newark Friday evening.

Sheriff White has levied on the milk ranch of George W. Dutton of Alvarado for $3,700. The plaintiff is Samuel Dutton. The property levied upon consisted to 145 milch cows, 100 cattle, 350 hogs and 10 horses.

The Chadbourne vineyard of eight acres has yielded the best of any in this vicinity. About 120 tons of grapes were harvested, or 15 tons to the acre. Nearly all the crop was shipped to the city and sold.

The road between Irvington and Warm Springs and also between the former place and Centerville is receiving a coat of gravel and otherwise being repaired for the winter.

The Palmdale has finished crushing Zinfandel grapes and will start on the later varities next week. About 300,000 gallons of wine will be made at this winery this year.

NILES.

(From the Washington Press.)

A bicycle party chaperoned by J. E. Jacobs and wife rode to Haywards Sunday to witness the bicycle races.

Geo. Bennett, brother of Mrs. Jacobus, is quite sick with pneumonia in Santa Cruz.

Mrs. Geo. Hudson tendered a reception to the teachers of the Centerville High school and the Niles public school at her home Saturday afternoon. A very large number of her friends called during the afternoon and after a social chat were served with refreshments. The teachers were very much gratified with their kind reception and will long remember the occasion as one of the happy events of their lives.

Mrs. Bob Bonner is on a visit with her parents at Sunol.

Mrs. Cash Peters has left for Willows to visit her sister. She expects to leave in the near future for an extended trip in the East.

A large addition is being built on the Congregational Church, which will be used for Sunday school purposes.

The ladies Guild met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. P. A. Ellis. A large number of ladies were present.

The Mizpah Union held a C. E. rally in the Congregational Church Friday evening. Rev. F. H. Maar addressed the meeting.

DECOTO.

(From the Washington Press.)

A daughter was born to the wife of T. S. Ferreira one day last week.

Miss Maud Dennett of San Francisco spent the latter part of last week as the guest of Miss Alice Kelley.

There is quite a number of cases of whooping cough in town.

Joe Duarte and Annie Luna were married in the Centerville church Thursday afternoon.

The football boys should get a move on if they intend playing any games this season.

Mrs. A. H. Bush and her daughter Alice have gone to Los Angeles on a visit.

Mrs. E. Searles has returned to Trinity county.

Miss Olive Scott has returned from a visit in Berkeley and Oakland.

Theodore Whipple is very ill with pneumonia.

CENTERVILLE.

(From the Washington Press.)

The Native Sons will give a grand ball in the hall on November 5th.

Miss Frances Gabiel and Frank Frates of Decoto were married in the Catholic Church Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Gregory of Centerville came to the city last week and stayed over Sunday with their friends. Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Cheever. Mr. Gregory was postmaster at Centerville under the Harrison administration, and his many friends desire his re-appointment to that position on account of his efficiency and integrity.

Little Zeta Hawes celebrated her fourth birthday Saturday and in commemoration of the event entertained a number of friends from the city.

The sewing society of the Presbyterian Church met at the home of Mrs. Dr. Emerson Wednesday afternoon. A large number of people were present and a very profitable afternoon was spent.

Ches Hatch is making arrangements with the Y. M. C. A. football team of Oakland for several games this season. Their light-weight eleven holds the State championship, and Ches has made up his mind to win it from them or know the reason why.

The C. A. C. Rifle Club held its regular medal shoot Sunday.

E. A. Plummer has been very sick the past week with pneumonia.

Frank Carter coached the C. A. C. light-weight team Sunday afternoon and put them through some very lively practice.

Mr. Ches Hatch and wife returned from a trip to the city Sunday evening. While away Ches arranged for several football games to take place during the coming season with the C. A. C. elevens.

Mrs. Nehaus and daughter drove to Oakland Wednesday morning and enjoyed the trip.

The Bay City wheelmen will visit our town on the 24th. They will take dinner at the Gregory House, after which they will cross bats with the C. A. C. baseball club. At the conclusion of the game a schedule of bicycle races has been arranged which will prove very interesting. Captain Garrett Norris has the matter in hand.

COMMUNICATION.

A. W. Bishop on the Governorship Fight.

Editor Tribune:—It is the inalienable right of every American citizen to seek an office. Because two or more seek the same office is no reason why friendships should be destroyed or the relations between candidates should be strained, or mud-throwing should dirty anybody's hands.

There has been a good deal, or rather a bad deal of talk in relation to the office of Governor of this State—two prominent worthy, and qualified citizens of Oakland are seeking the honor, and it is foolishly contended, without reason, that because two gentlemen from the same city and county are aspirants for the position, notwithstanding both are gentlemen and friends, that they must necessarily at once commence a bitter, personal warfare, cease to be gentlemen and friends, and become blackguards and that the fight will become so rancorous that they will knife each other and carry the fight into the State Convention; and the result will necessarily be that some other county will carry off the Gubernatorial honors.

Now, this is simply political drivel and ought to be stopped. The candidate which has the most delegates in the county convention will be the successful candidate in the State Convention. The candidate for Governor who has a majority of the delegates in the county convention will go to the State Convention with a solid, instructed delegation at his back; that is, if he has the right kind of managers, and knows what he wants, and necessarily needs.

I see no reason why there should be any doubt as to Alameda county carrying off the prize, though there may be half a dozen candidates before the primaries are held for delegates. It is the action of the convention, not foolish predictions, nine months in advance, that will decide the issue.

It is time this drivel about losing the Governorship because there are two candidates in Alameda county seeking to capture the delegation, and that worse drivel about a "bitter fight," should cease. By the time the primaries are held, every intelligent voter in Alameda county will have settled the question in his own mind. And whoever gets the delegates at the county convention—or a working majority—will be the next Governor of this State. Stop talking defeat and go to work for honorable success, is the advice of one who has been in the political fights of this State for thirty-nine years.

A. W. BISHOP.

Hawaiian Annexation.

Editor Tribune:—The methods which are being pursued by certain contemporaries in opposing the annexation of Hawaii, are marked by a spirit of bitterness and unfairness which can only arise in self-interest and passion. It is no wonder that under such circumstances that misrepresentation is resorted to, and every endeavor is made to mislead public opinion and to arouse the antagonism of the ignorant and the unreflecting. The charge is reiterated that annexation would open the door for the admission of 50,000 coolies into this State, when the entire Chinese population in the Hawaiian Islands is much less than half that number. True, there are more Japanese in the Islands than Chinese, but there is no law to prevent the Japanese from coming to San Francisco at present, and annexation would not enlarge their opportunities. The same applies to the native population. The race is habituated to the climate of the Islands and while unrestricted opportunities have existed for their emigration to the main land, they have never sought to leave their native shores. Annexation would enlarge their chances of employment and lessen any dormant wish for change. It is thus easily seen that the threatened flood of cheap labor would not materialize with annexation and that the appeals to the fears and prejudices of the laboring classes are made without truth or sincerity. Leprosy has existed in the Islands for more than a third of a century, but all pronounced lepers have been isolated. Annexation would not cure the disease nor increase its activities. The thousands upon thousands who have visited the Islands in the past and who will visit them in the future have done so and will do so whether the Islands are annexed or not. As well might the expulsion of the Gulf States be advocated because of yellow fever, as objection be raised against annexation by the cry of leprosy. The political relations will not change the conditions of the disease nor increase the danger of contagion. The objections to annexation on the economic side are equally misleading. The Hawaiian sugar crop is but one-tenth of the sugar consumed in the United States, which now amounts to about 2,000,000,000 tons per annum. With the sugar beet factories now in operation and those which will be operated next year, the production in this State will be between 150,000 to 200,000 tons, or nearly equal to the Hawaiian crop, but both combined will be less than a fifth of the entire consumption of the country. As a consequence the price of sugar will be fixed by the cost of importing the deficiency and not by competition between the local and Hawaiian production.

It is, however, upon the political side that the question of annexation assumes its greatest importance, and it is to be regretted that fancied self-interest and passion should raise objections to a policy dictated by prudence and patriotism. The United States cannot act the dog-in-the-manger with the Islands, but must either annex them or abdicate its present advantage to others. Now, they can be acquired peacefully, but to neglect the present opportunity may later necessitate their conquest by an act of war.

Want Improvements.

Editor Tribune—As you kindly published in the Tribune of the 13th my communication, I take courage, and submit some suggestions as to what we ought to do as citizens, to the end that the city may again commence the forward march of improvement that came to a halt some four years or so since. And let me say right here that no city, situated as ours is, can make any satisfactory growth so long as its citizens are vicious towards men, and combinations of men, organized as corporations, who have money to invest and are looking for a good place to invest it, and for a satisfactory place to locate themselves and their families. For some years past we have done all we could possibly do to prevent such men from locating here, and it is understood throughout the State that they are not wanted, that they will not be welcome here. I do not say that such is the case, but I know that we have that reputation. In past years we had a better name, and men of means came here to make homes and be with us and of us. Messrs. F. M. Smith, Captain Asa Simpson, Knowles, Goodall, McNear, Kittredge, Bailey, Alexander and many others that might be included in the list, brought money here and assisted in beautifying our city. Do we hear of such men now coming here to locate? Not at all. They have been led to believe that they are not welcome. Nearly thirty years since, we invited the C. P. R. R. Co. to make this city their terminus. They did so, and every one rejoiced. The company gave us quick and satisfactory communication with San Francisco, and for more than ten years brought their money and their men here, and all Oakland rejoiced and our hamlet became a city. That company had determined to invest half a million in grain warehouses when the first water front suit was brought, and, as one of them said to the writer of this, "We said we supposed we had a title, but if it is questioned we will not put in any new money," and Port Costa is the result—and the timbers that were gotten out for that purpose were put to other uses. But the men who induced the company to locate here are nearly all dead, and the generation now in control of our city has been educated to believe that the more they can do to spite the railroad the better they are serving the public. That is a mistake, and some day we will find it out.

Now, what ought we to do in the best interest of us all? First, don't run in debt for anything we do not need now. Every debt is a tax upon our city that first must be provided for before we can raise one dollar to support our city government. Of our tax levy of $1.12 for this year, I think that 17 cents is for fixed charges. Next let us have a definite end in view in all park, boulevard and street work. Let us know just what we are going to do towards a West Oakland park, and whatever sum is spent this year there, shall be but part of a whole, the remainder to be done next year, and in other years, and all to be paid for as we go along. And our Lake Merritt boulevard, let that be continued, if not on the original line, on some better one, including, if necessary, the using of some of the adjoining land, and when completed it will be so central that it can be used by all of our citizens, and the boulevard and the lake will be the beauty spot of Oakland. And then let us put aside a reasonable sum yearly for the laying out of the ten or twelve acre park in East Oakland that has been so long neglected, and finally let us stop our fight against the railroad and other corporations, and let our Councilmen and our legal advisers consult together in a friendly way with the Railroad Company and the Water Front Company and come to an understanding as to what rights we have, and what rights they have, to the end that if any man or corporation wishes to improve the water front a title about which there can be no dispute can be given them, so that we may have no more tearing down of fences by order of those who happen to be in power, and to the end that we may not again drive away such concerns as Hinckley, Spier & Hayes when they desire to come here with their works—as was done in their case—because of a doubt about the title. In short, treat every man and every corporation having money to invest kindly, and do what we can to induce them to come and spend money here.

GERMANY WANTS TO RETALIATE.

Canadian Lumber Is Looked on With Favor in the Fatherland.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

BERLIN, Oct. 15.—The Kolnische Zeitung urges Germany to open negotiations between the Canadian Railway and Canal Companies and the German Chambers of Commerce and the timber firms, with a view of importing lumber from Canada instead of the United States. The paper suggests that German capital might be introduced into the Canadian timber trade and the foundation laid that would lead up to an actual treaty.

DR. C. O. BROWN NOW AFTER DR. M'LEAN.

The Latter May Be Accused of Unjustness and Unfairness.

He Is Not Disturbed by the Rumors Which Come From Chicago.

Friends of Dr. C. O. Brown may attack Dr. McLean's character in the coming Chicago conference, which will decide the Congregational standing of the former San Francisco minister.

The three delegates from the Bay Conference, Dr. J. K. McLean, the Rev. C. R. Brown, and the Rev. G. B. Hatch will leave for the East to-night.

In referring to their going, the Rev. Brown said to his congregation last evening:

"For the past week I have been deliberating whether or not it is my duty to join this committee. It has come to my knowledge that at the Chicago conference unjust charges will be made against Dr. McLean to the effect that throughout this trouble he was an enemy, was prejudiced, and used malicious methods to down Mr. Brown. If this is to take place, it means an attack not only on Dr. McLean, whom we love, and revere, but also upon our church. This has largely determined me to attend this final conference, which in itself involves national issues in our denomination. If Dr. McLean is to be attacked, it is my duty to be there as an unprejudiced party to speak in the matter."

Dr. McLean himself is anything but disturbed over the situation, and will be on hand to receive the onslaughts of the Brown faction in Chicago. He said last night that he has no theory as to the kind of charges or method of attack to suggest, and that about all he knows of the situation is what has been described to him by others of the Bay Conference who have been made aware of the intention of the Brown people.

The Council will meet in Chicago the 26th inst. It is composed of the following, appointed by both parties—Rev. Arthur Little, Dorchester, Mass. Appointed by Dr. Brown—Rev. J. B. Silcox, Leavitt-street Congregational Church, Chicago; Rev. George R. Wallace, Pilgrim Church, Chicago; Rev. W. A. Waterman, Millard-avenue Church, Chicago; Rev. Philip Krohn, Lakeview Church, Chicago, and Rev. John T. Blanchard, Aurora, Ill. Appointed by the Bay Conference—Rev. Washington Gladden, Columbus, O.; Rev. Michael Burnham, St. Louis, Mo.; Rev. George R. Merrill, Minneapolis, Minn.; Rev. Nehemiah Boynton, Detroit, Mich., and Rev. D. F. Bradley, Grand Rapids, Mich.

A woman's attractiveness in the eyes of man depends largely on her physical appearance. Nature, in order to preserve the race, guides mankind by the instinctive preference for a mate who is physically sound and wholesome.

If intellect alone were chiefly sought, the offspring might be a generation of Solomons for wisdom, but they would perish in infancy for want of physical stamina.

A weak or unhealthy woman is unfitted to fulfil her part in perpetuating the race; she is unequal to the demands of motherhood and wifehood; she is robbed of her natural womanly attractiveness.

Many a woman is cheated of life's choicest gifts by a dyspeptic, bile-poisoned condition of the system, which shows itself in a pimply skin, sallow complexion, tainted breath, or thin, ungraceful form.

The most perfect remedy for all the mortifying symptoms of mal-nutrition and impure blood is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Through its remarkable effect upon the liver and digestive organs it sweeps all impurities out of the circulation and creates a fresh supply of new, rich, life-giving blood.

It gives clearness and bloom to the complexion; sweetens the breath; rounds out the face and form, and invigorates the entire constitution with vital energy.

It restores the invincible beauty of wholesomeness and womanly capacity.

"I was a complete wreck; appetite gone, nervous system impaired; could not sleep, and was so weak that I could not stand on my feet ten minutes," writes Miss Ella Bartley, of No. 213¾ South Grant Avenue, Columbus, Ohio; "I only weighed 95½ pounds when I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. After I had taken a half bottle I began to improve; I could sleep soundly the whole night, and would awaken with an appetite for breakfast, which was a rare thing as I never had for two years back; eaten a hearty breakfast. I now have an excellent appetite, and my friends say they never saw me looking better or in better spirits since they knew me. I tell them it is all due to Dr. Pierce's 'Discovery.'"

In all cases of obstinate constipation, the "Discovery" should be supplemented with Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

VETERANS ASK A SQUARE DEAL.

Petition Against Some Alleged Favoritism at Mare Island.

Veterans from San Francisco, Vallejo and Oakland held a meeting yesterday at Washington Hall to protest against alleged discrimination against old soldiers at Mare Island.

Congressman Hilborn was present, and a petition was extensively signed which he will present to the Secretary of the Navy.

A movement was inaugurated to bring the matter squarely before the Secretary of the Navy at Washington, D. C. Judge J. P. McElroy was chosen chairman, and Fred Miller of Vallejo secretary. Judge McElroy stated the object of the meeting to be a redress of grievances set forth in the petition to Mr. Hilborn, praying for his earnest efforts in behalf of the veterans. Speeches were made by several veterans who have felt the effects of the alleged discrimination against them by the heads of departments of the navy-yard.

Mr. Hilborn said he would enter into the spirit of the movement, and only asked the petitioners to furnish the proof when called upon. An executive committee composed of seven veterans was appointed by the chair to prepare the papers under the seal of a notary for Mr. Hilborn.

CHICAGO KICKERS TO TAKE TO THE ROAD.

A Game Outlined With the Reliance Team of Oakland.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—The Chicago Athletic Association football team will make a Western trip this winter, unless the Board of Directors of the club interferes. The determination to take a Western trip was caused by the offer of the Butte Athletic Club to guarantee $1,000 for a game on the way to the Pacific coast and an additional $500 for a second game, if the team choose to return the same way. As only $3,000 is needed to make the trip, the financial part is considered settled.

Games will probably be arranged with the Denver Athletic Club, Reliance Athletic Club of Oakland, Stanford University, University of California and the strong team at Los Angeles. The start will be made soon after the Thanksgiving Day game. The Christmas and New Year's Day games will probably be played in California.

The intention is to return by the Southern route and engage in contests if strong teams can be secured.

COULD NOT PASS ON THE SAME TRACK.

A COLLEGE FOOTBALL TEAM

The Santa Clara Boys Will Play the Freshmen of the Universities

The latest football news from Santa Clara says that the College team is in good condition and practicing hard. Although not as strong as the team which last year defeated St. Mary's College by a score of 46 to 4. Still it possesses many good qualities. The backs are excellent men and play their positions well and the line, though somewhat light, has much good material in it. The boys play well together and should give any team of their class a good game. They have two games on their hands for this week; one with the Berkeley Freshmen on Tuesday, the 19th, the other with the Stanford Freshmen on Saturday, the 23d. Tuesday's game is to be played at Cycler's Park San Jose and Saturday's on the Stanford campus.

The College boys realize the strength of their opponents and, although somewhat dubious as to results, expect to make a good showing for themselves.

ALL FOR CHARITY.

The East Oakland Workers Fete Was a Great Success.

SOCIETY OUT IN FORCE.

Hundreds of Lanterns Lit Up the Wetherbee Grounds.

FINE PROGRAMMES PRESENTED

A Good Sum Raised for the Kindergarten and Church.

The fete of the East Oakland Workers Saturday was an event that will long be remembered in the annals of Fruitvale society. The fete opened at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and closed late in the evening. The scene at night was beautiful. Over the gate hung an arch of glowing lanterns, the one in the center, like a big moon, supplanting the real Luna who did not appear until much too late to be of any service. Lines of lanterns hung on either side of the driveway. The lights across the lawns were hung so as to form a big "W." During the afternoon the scene was as lovely with the mellow sunshine and the soft warmth of autumn.

The candy booth was placed to the right of the driveway, under an immense umbrella palm fan, and was decorated with smilax and pink flowers. Miss Ida Blood, in charge, was prettily gowned in pink and white.

The gypsy's tent stood on the lawn, and was decorated in red. Nearby, under a willow tree, were tables where tea and waters were served in the afternoon. Miss Ethel de la Montanya and Miss Helen Morley were in charge. The big tent where the bean supper was served was beautiful with its floral decorations. The long tables were tastefully adorned with flowers and smilax, while around the edges were placed daintily arranged leaves and bunches of red grapes.

Fruitvale ladies presided at the ice-cream tables, where traffic was extremely lively throughout the fete.

The programme was given from the veranda. Mrs. Shelley was the first to sing, and her solo, "The Nightingale," was very much enjoyed. Harry Melvin followed with a solo, "Come to Me, My Love," and responded to a hearty encore. Sam Mayer of San Francisco also sang, and his rendition of a favorite song was greatly appreciated. Several very acceptable piano solos followed and closed the programme for the afternoon.

The young people then wandered away through the gardens, and the tennis court became the scene of a lively game. The young ladies in light dresses and picture hats formed many a lovely group on the lawn and among the trees.

The bean supper at 5:30 o'clock was a great success in every respect. The Workers waited upon the tables, where lamps with shades of yellow gave a soft and pleasant light. The bill of fare included Spanish beans donated by Gus Bray of Fruitvale, Frankfurter sausage, donated by Fred Becker, potato salad, pickled beets from the Wetherbee garden, whipped cream from the Oakland Creamery, coffee and grapes.

After the supper J. W. Erwin of Berkeley gave an exhibition of moving stereopticon views, which were extremely amusing. Much to the regret of all, Mrs. Riley was unable to render her recitation from the fact that the programme was given out of doors. The California Mandolin Club, in their natty new uniforms, rendered "Mignonette" in an artistic manner.

George T. Balch of San Francisco, a pupil of Homer Henly, sang the "Longshoreman" in a splendid manner and was roundly applauded. He was accompanied by Miss Augusta Gillespie of San Francisco. "The Yacht Race," by the Mandolin Club followed, and then George T. Balch gave another of his delightful solos. The young gentleman has an excellent voice of a very high quality.

Miss Edith Swain played a selection on the piano, which was much enjoyed. Spencer Riley was also on the programme for a cornet solo. "Ben Bolt" and "Little Alabama Coon" were sung by a little artist of six years. Another feature on the programme was a selection by a mandolin and guitar club composed of Herbert Whitton, Dr. Corwin, Alexander Marx and Mr. O'Brien.

Dancing followed, the California Mandolin Club furnishing the music.

Over 400 tickets were sold, and the result will be of a very material assistance to the East Oakland Kindergarten and the Fruitvale Congregational Church.

The reception committee included Mrs. Henry Wetherbee, Mrs. Cobin, Miss Ruth Bird Pugh, Miss Jennie Bush, Miss Frear, Mrs. Brewster.

Many of the patronesses attended, among whom Mrs. R. C. Craft has aided very materially in the success of the fete.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Williams, Misses Edith, Claribel and Grace Williams, Mrs. Ressigule, Miss Emma Ressigule, Mrs. N. Husband, Miss Susie Husband, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Melvin, Mrs. Fritz Hinckley, Mrs. Farnham, Mrs. Kemp, Miss Kemp, Augustus Kemp, Miss Mary Varney, Mrs. William King, Mrs. Dr. W. H. Chamberlain, Mrs. Davidson, Mrs. Hoitt, Mrs. Martin, Miss Virginia Goodsell, Dr. and Mrs. Sill, Mrs. Riley, Mrs. Shelley, Sam Mayer, Dr. Corwin, Mr. and Mrs. Brewster, Mr. Raisch, Dr. Allen, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. F. SEATTLE FEARS THE CLONDYKE "FEVER."

The Chamber of Commerce Writes to Mayor Thomas.

Wishes to Know if Prospectors Realize the Dangers of the Trip.

Mayor Thomas has received the following letter from the Chamber of Commerce at Seattle, Washington:

"Dear Sir:—The number of letters received here from all parts of the country from persons who state it their intention to go to Alaska and the Clondyke in the spring, including many from your locality, lead us to ask your consideration of this letter. Of course, it is probable that many such persons will not go, but in any case the movement of population appears likely to be extraordinary.

"Under these circumstances it is highly important to our people that they should be able to form some approximate idea, even if only a slight approximation, of how many are likely to come here, will you therefore kindly oblige us by stating your impressions on the following points:

"How far has the 'Clondyke fever' affected your city or State?

"What is your impression as to the number of persons, who will start in the spring?

"Do they appreciate the difficulties and hardships of the trip?

"Will they be fully prepared for the expense of going?

"Will they be likely to any extent to become public charges?

"When will they start?

"Will there be many women?

"Where do they expect to outfit?

"How can they best be reached by an authentic statement of exactly what to expect?

"Would you be willing to make public a carefully prepared statement to be approved by public officers showing distances, dangers and probable expense of an Alaskan prospecting journey?

"In case the expected movement is large, is it your idea that Americans should be advised to go to the Canadian or American territory, the chances for success being apparently about the same?"

The Mayor will write for the statement mentioned in the foregoing letter and will answer the questions as soon as he can investigate the matter carefully.
